

This Paper Consists of Two Sections—SECTION ONE.
CIRCULATION
Over 500,000 Sunday.
Over 300,000 Daily.

The Chicago Daily Tribune

FINAL EDITION

VOLUME LXXV—NO. 88. C.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1916.—TWENTY-TWO PAGES.

* * PRICE ONE CENT

POISONER'S ARREST NEAR

GERMANS SEEK Footholds in Latin America

Senators Hold Documents Showing Blow at the Monroe Doctrine.

HALTED BY GREAT WAR

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Extraordinary revelations of the reported plans of Germany to establish a foothold in several republics of the western hemisphere and in the Danish West Indies, in defiance of the Monroe doctrine, are in the possession of the committee on foreign relations of the United States senate.

The committee is carefully guarding the evidence from publication because of fear of the effect it might have upon public opinion. So impressed were senators with the advisability of suppressing the information that the motion to debate the Nicaraguan treaty in the open senate, which would have entailed disclosure of the German plans, was defeated by an overwhelming vote.

In reference to the same consideration, the proposed debate on the Haitian treaty will be debated by the senate behind closed doors.

CONTENTS OF DOCUMENTS

The documents in the possession of the committee appear to prove:

That Germany sought to establish a sphere of influence in Nicaragua by purchase of the interoceanic canal route and the right to establish naval bases.

That Germany sought to gain a foothold in Colombia by negotiation of an interoceanic canal concession and the purchase of plantations and the establishment of a naval base at Cartagena.

That Germany aimed paramount influence in Paraguay by organizing the army and is carrying out a similar plan in Chile.

That Germany sought to gain a foothold in Haiti through control of the customs and the establishment of a naval base at Mole St. Nicholas.

That Germany practically controls the island of St. Thomas by lease from Denmark, and has established there a base of great strategic value, particularly because of its proximity to Porto Rico and the Panama canal.

READY TO REVEAL REPORT

The committee also has documentary evidence indicating that, although the Monroe doctrine has been interpreted in the past as a policy of opposition to European intervention in the affairs of the western hemisphere as soon as peace shall be restored.

Reports of their dealing upon the operations of the Monroe doctrine in the United States.

The committee is endeavoring to bring the United States into line with the Monroe doctrine, with force if necessary, and is endeavoring to consult the Senate and Central American republics in a non-American partnership with the United States in maintaining this stand.

These who contend that the Monroe doctrine must be defended at all costs, and that European designs declare it impossible to provide an American navy that can be depended in strength by any of our allies, are possibly great.

The other hand, many statements have been made that the American people must not sanction a costly waste of blood and treasure in an attempt to prevent the European or Asiatic nations from gaining a foothold in some remote part of the Americas, for example, they are from this viewpoint that a navy and army of sufficient size to defend the United States and its possessions are all that is necessary.

THE ARMY OF PANAMA.

General reports disclose the extent of the hold Germany has obtained upon the army, which, although a minor force, is of great importance in the defense of the country.

The United States recently established an independent army of 100,000 men.

City Night Fatal to Old Hunter and Moonshiner

"King of the Kankakee," Ancient Son of Woods, Dies in Hammond.

FRIEND OF NOTABLES

He played a game prank on the "king of the Kankakee" yesterday.

A game old hunter and moonshiner, known as the "king of the Kankakee," died yesterday in Hammond, Ind.

He had been hunting and moonshining for many years, and was known to many of the notable hunters and moonshiners of the region.

He lived and fought with his boots on.

But on Saturday, for the first time in years, he emerged into civilization to visit his daughter, Mrs. Helen Haveron, in Hammond, Ind.

At night he lay on the bed, and he died in the morning.

He had been hunting and moonshining for many years, and was known to many of the notable hunters and moonshiners of the region.

He lived and fought with his boots on.

But on Saturday, for the first time in years, he emerged into civilization to visit his daughter, Mrs. Helen Haveron, in Hammond, Ind.

At night he lay on the bed, and he died in the morning.

He had been hunting and moonshining for many years, and was known to many of the notable hunters and moonshiners of the region.

He lived and fought with his boots on.

But on Saturday, for the first time in years, he emerged into civilization to visit his daughter, Mrs. Helen Haveron, in Hammond, Ind.

At night he lay on the bed, and he died in the morning.

He had been hunting and moonshining for many years, and was known to many of the notable hunters and moonshiners of the region.

He lived and fought with his boots on.

But on Saturday, for the first time in years, he emerged into civilization to visit his daughter, Mrs. Helen Haveron, in Hammond, Ind.

At night he lay on the bed, and he died in the morning.

He had been hunting and moonshining for many years, and was known to many of the notable hunters and moonshiners of the region.

He lived and fought with his boots on.

But on Saturday, for the first time in years, he emerged into civilization to visit his daughter, Mrs. Helen Haveron, in Hammond, Ind.

GIRL'S MOTHER PLEADS ORPET BE SET FREE

Mrs. Lambert Voices Her Sympathy for Accused Slayer's Parents.

GO LETTERS BARE LOVE

BY WALTER NOBLE BURNS.

Presumably was brought to hear on State's Attorney Ralph Dwyer of Lake county yesterday to influence him to free William H. Orpet, the University of Wisconsin Junior held at Waukegan on a charge of murder.

A bereaved mother's sympathy for another mother in kindred sorrow brought about this startling development in the case growing out of the death of Miss Marian Lambert, the Lake Forest high school girl found dead in the snow of Helm's woods last Thursday.

Mrs. Lambert called State's Attorney Dwyer to her home and told him she did not believe young Orpet had killed her daughter.

SYMPATHY FOR HER MOTHER.

"I have only sympathy in my heart for Mrs. Orpet," said Mrs. Lambert to the prosecutor. "No punishment the law might visit upon Will Orpet will give me back my Marian. I want to know of any kind, even if it is guilty, and I cannot believe he is."

The dead girl's mother has not been permitted to know that young Orpet, a boy of 21, was charged with the murder of her daughter.

GIRL'S CRUEL TALK.

The state's attorney, however, obtained some new evidence of the circumstantial order. He learned Miss Josephine Davis, the whom who spent the night before the tragedy with Marian Lambert, had admitted she had foreknowledge of the relations between Marian and Orpet. She also was taken into Marian's confidence regarding the appointment for the trial in the woods which ended in the girl's death.

"I knew Marian had been too friendly with Orpet," Mrs. Davis said, "and that she feared the consequences. She told me the 'big decision' would come when she met Orpet in the woods, but she did not say she intended to kill herself."

FATHER AND SON.

H. O. Orpet, father of the prisoner, attaches great importance to Miss Davis' story.

"I am told on good authority," said Mr. Orpet, "that Miss Davis knows facts which ought to clear my son. Miss Davis saw Marian just before her death, but did not know of the tragedy until late on Wednesday. It is known, however, that Miss Davis told friends in Highland Park that she 'must hurry back to Lake Forest to prevent a death.' This means, I think, that Miss Davis knew that Marian was contemplating suicide."

AS THE SENSATIONAL north shore tragedy passed into this unexpected phase, it became known that for several days the Lake Forest authorities have had their suspicions about the facts written by Orpet and Mrs. Lambert on one another which disclosed the successive stages of their romance from the happy beginning in the Deerfield High school to its tragic close among the snowdrifts.

In these episodes, Orpet stands revealed as a ruthless voluptuary who had a cunning mind to her ruin, and coolly threw her overboard when he had tired of her and another's charms had repudiated him.

PRISONER ACCUSED THE POISON.

The poison that killed Miss Marian Lambert was found in a bottle in her room, but no one could be sure of its contents.

This definite fact was announced by Dr. H. R. Le Conte, pathologist at Governor Bennett's clinic.

Dr. Le Conte was questioned with the utmost of the dead girl by the Lake county authorities and attended in the pathology and of the investigation. He telephoned the results to Governor J. S. Taylor at Libertyville and will make a detailed report to that official today.

He will turn over the organs and the contents of the stomach to the state's attorney.

(Continued on page 5, column 1.)

Grahame-White, British Airman, Gravely Injured

Fifteen Killed, Number Wounded, by Raids on Italian Towns.

FAMOUS CHURCH HIT

PARIS, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Glaude Grahame-White, the British aviator, has been wounded gravely. He is being treated in a hospital in London.

Lieut. Grahame-White was interned several years ago by the authorities in England and America. He enlisted in the naval corps at the outbreak of the war and was appointed temporary flight commander.

A year ago he had a narrow escape from death. After participating in a raid by a squadron of aeroplanes on Belgian towns he fell into the sea, but was picked up by a cruiser.

Lieut. Grahame-White's wife, formerly Miss Dorothy Taylor of New York, obtained last month a decree for the restitution of her conjugal rights, an action which in England is a preliminary step to a suit for divorce.

RAID TOWN IN ITALY.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Austrian aeroplanes made a raid yesterday over Ravenna and the neighboring towns of Cesenatico and Serravalle in northeastern Italy, near the Adriatic.

A heavy bombardment from Rome says fifteen persons were killed and a number of others were wounded. Several women and children were among the injured.

A hospital and the bellies of Saint Apollinare at Ravenna were damaged.

The church of Saint Apollinare was erected in the years 555 and 558. It was restored in 1779 and is the largest of the basilicas still existing at Ravenna.

Report issued in Vienna.

VIENNA, Feb. 13.—The following official communication was issued today: Saturday afternoon a machine gun squadron destroyed two station warehouses and the Ravenna station and badly damaged sulphur and sugar factories. Some casualties were reported.

The aeroplanes were violently harassed by the anti-aircraft post at Ravenna. A second squadron hit the pumping works at Cesenatico and several heavy bombs. All the aeroplanes returned safely.

German Airman Active.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

Our aeroplanes bombarded enemy positions, and the railway establishment at La Piana and Poperinghe. An attack made by an enemy aeroplane on Ghislenghe, south of Osnabruck, caused no damage.

MME. WALSKA ADOPTS CREED, 'AN ARTIST CANNOT MARRY.'

Polish Prima Donna Breaks On Her Engagement to L. M. Palmer Jr. of Brooklyn.

New York, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—The great "artist cannot marry" theory was taken only last week by Miss Geraldine Farrar when she was married to Lou Fuller, has been adopted by Mme. Janna Walska, the Polish prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company.

Mme. Walska's engagement to Lowell M. Palmer Jr. of 131 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, has been broken.

The betrothal lasted from last August until a few months ago, as Mme. Walska put it.

"One cannot be an artist and marry," she said tonight. "Mr. Palmer and I were to be married. But when I saw the stage above everything, and so, well, we will not be married."

ON POISON PLOT TRAIL.

Friend of Missing Cook Who Is Held by Police, Young Woman at Crone's Boarding Place Who Got "Nerves" and "Mysterious Code" Numbers.

Valentines Urge Votes for Women on Washington

BY A. H. HARRIS.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—President Wilson and every member of the senate and house of representatives will receive tomorrow specially designed valentines from members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, valentines reminding them of the country-wide interest in the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

The valentine designed for the president is particularly elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

Valentines for the members of the senate and house of representatives are also elaborate, being a large sheet of paper on which appear innumerable fair women holding out hearts.

PATIENTS SAVE BURNING HOSPITAL AT PEORIA, ILL.

Eighty-two Escape, Some by Ladders, from Fire at St. Mary's—None Injured.

SITUATION ON WAR FRONTS

FRENCH FRONT.

Berlin yesterday announced the capture of French positions extending over a front of about 700 yards, near Sainte-Marie-Py. In the morning the Germans penetrated the positions of the allies. Paris reports the repulse of five successive infantry attacks by the Germans in an effort to recapture the positions recently taken by the French near Sainte-Marie-Py. Near Soissons the Germans penetrated a French trench, but subsequently were ejected.

RUSSIAN FRONT.

Intense fighting in the vicinity of Dvinsk is reported by Petrograd. Germans are using gas grenades. Russian destroyers reported to have destroyed eight German sailing ships in the Black sea.

MESOPOTAMIA.

Turkish official report says British suffered defeat west of Kurna and fled, leaving numerous dead. The Turks took some prisoners.

CAUCASUS.

The Turks claim to have retaken some positions lost to the Russians. Artillery duels are reported. Petrograd says continued advances in the direction of Baku are being made with the capture of many prisoners.

COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY FEAT ACHIEVED BY ITALIANS?

Important Discovery Long Sought by Scientists in Many Countries Announced at Rome.

Rome, Feb. 13.—What is hailed here as an important scientific discovery is a method of photography reproducing natural colors found, after eight years of experimenting, by the Florentine brothers and by Signor Benigni.

These men say they have solved a problem on which scientists have been working in many countries, and that important commercial results are to be expected from the exploitation of their discovery for the purpose of moving picture exhibitions.

Complete tests are now to be made by distinguished scientists.

ILLINOIS MAN PRISONER OF MEXICAN BANDITS.

George Hunkley, Formerly of Springfield, Held for Ransom, Letter from Son Says.

ANSWERS HER DOORBELL! FACES ROBBER'S PISTOL.

Mrs. Julia Schneider Held Up in Her Home by Handkerchief-Masked Intruder.

An armed man, the lower part of his face covered with a white handkerchief, confronted Mrs. Julia Schneider, 340 North Albany avenue, when she answered the front door bell of her home at 7:15 o'clock last night.

"Put up your hands," he ordered, threatening her with a revolver and backing her into the hallway. "Be quiet, or you'll get hurt."

After compelling her to give him the key which she had hidden under a mattress on bed.

ARSENIC FOR DEATH OF 200 PUT IN SOUP.

96 Extra Guests Diluted Poison and Saved the Lives of All.

EMPTY BOTTLES FOUND

The trail of Jean Cronan, anarchist, anti-Catholic, chemist, chef, and suspected arch-poisoner, has been picked up by the authorities.

At midnight one of the 400 men who have been hunting Cronan stumbled upon information that is expected to result in a speedy arrest.

"We think we know where he is hiding," said an official. "There will be a raid today."

DEATH FOR 300 GUESTS.

Empty arsenic bottles and wrappings found in the missing cook's laboratory, verified by a quantitative analysis of the soup, indicate that the poisoner made scientific calculations to murder every guest at the banquet to Archbishop Albin.

Two grams of arsenic is the minimum amount to kill. The arch-poisoner had understood every man in the hall for 300 guests, at least 200 were present. That thinned down the poison dose to one and two-tenths grains of arsenic per guest, or about three-fifths of the minimum fatal dose.

CHEMISTRY AID AWARDED.

An interesting phase developed with the degradation of First Deputy of Police Subbotin that Cronan had acquired of an anarchist leader last May if the study of chemistry would interfere with his being an anarchist. At that time, according to Subbotin, the leader replied that Cronan might even further the cause by such a study. The identity of the leader referred to, if his name is known to the police, has not been revealed by them.

GUARD FOR ARCHBISHOP.

Reinforced and a squad of 150 detectives, mounted officers and uniformed policemen were at the reception to Archbishop Mundelein given last night at the Auditorium theater. While the police had received no information of any planned outbreak, detectives were scattered through the audience to protect the archbishop from the possibility of attack by some crank. Detectives at the entrance watched those who passed the doorways to keep out notorious radicals whose names are known to the police.

SUSPECTED ANARCHIST PLOT.

That the poisoning may have been part of a nation-wide plot among a certain group of anarchists was suggested yesterday by Hinton G. Chicago, division chief of the federal bureau of investigation. Mr. Chicago said it did not seem reasonable to believe that Cronan could have operated alone.

Quantitative analysis completed by Dr. Frederick O. Tomney of the health department disclosed the fact that each pint of the soup served at the banquet probably contained 2 1/2 grains of arsenic, an excessive amount which must have been placed in the soup purposely. Samples of the soup taken by the health department showed this quantitative result.

At the University club, so is the custom at banquets, each guest received one-third of a pint of soup. "Healthy vomiting," Dr. Robertson said, "prevented more serious consequences."

WAS THE COOK?

Another development in the poison plot was the holding of John Allogatti, 2000 Calumet avenue, anarchist and chef of the missing Cronan.

Detectives raided Allogatti's room, as 2000 Calumet avenue, where they found and confiscated books, papers, and various dry batteries and other paraphernalia. That particular importance is attached by the police to one letter found in Allogatti's possession was admitted by Capt. Hunt.

"We found information in the letter that it was of great importance to us in our search for Cronan," the detective chief said. "I don't make the letter public just yet. In fact, if we failed at all now we might ruin our whole case."

After all that has happened to Cronan, it is not surprising that he has been found.

THE WEATHER.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1916.

Chicago and vicinity.

Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, but with some light snow or rain Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Temperature moderate, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Illinois—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Indiana—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Ohio—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Michigan—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Wisconsin—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Minnesota—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Nebraska—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Kansas—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Missouri—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Arkansas—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Louisiana—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Alabama—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Georgia—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Florida—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

South Carolina—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

North Carolina—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Virginia—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

West Virginia—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Maryland—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Delaware—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Pennsylvania—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

New Jersey—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

New York—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with a slight rise Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

last Sunday, Mrs. Marie Lagne, who with her husband, Pasquale, lived at 208 Calumet avenue, admitted to a reporter for "The Tribune" that the two men had eaten Sunday dinner there and left together.

TALKED IN LOW VOICE

"I do not know where they went," she said, "but I thought they were going to a moving picture show. Jean came in just as my husband was finishing dinner. He and John talked a while, and then went out together. Later in the evening John returned alone."

Pasquale, a cook at the Congress hotel, said he knew nothing of Cronos' plans or whereabouts. He admitted the detectives in searching Allegri's belongings, as well as the property of Dominick Forte, who roomed with Allegri, Forte, according to Lagne, in a traveling salesman, and papers found at the house indicated that he worked for the Sterling, Inc. company, sailors. Forte was out of town, but a search of his clothing and papers indicated he also is an anarchist in leanings.

Summary of His Actions

High lights in Cronos' actions during the few days just prior to his disappearance stand out as follows:

Monday, Feb. 6.—Cronos appears at Lagne home in afternoon during dinner and later goes out with Allegri. In the evening, both appear at the home of Mrs. May Zelgins, where Cronos has a room. They go up to the room, according to Mrs. Zelgins, who is also known as Mrs. Howard, and remain there for about fifteen minutes. Then Allegri leaves.

Wednesday, Feb. 8.—Cronos appears nervous. He goes to work at the University club, where he prepares a soup which is to be served at banquet the following night. He leaves at 8:15 in the evening, according to employees. Since then he has not been recognized.

Chef Calls Landlady

Thursday, Feb. 10.—Julius Chanay, head chef at the club, calls Mrs. Lagne in the morning and asks for Cronos, who he says is in the room. He is told that Cronos left in December. "He is a little too cold," and then the chef asks Mrs. Lagne to go to the Zelgins home and see if the missing man is there. Mrs. Lagne goes, and finds Cronos has not been seen since the preceding evening. She reports this to Chanay. "Tuesday night the soup was served and the guests are poisoned."

Friday, Feb. 11.—Nothing is seen of Cronos, but in the afternoon the telephone in the kitchen rings, and a voice, believed to be that of the missing man, says the Cronos is ill and unable to work. Friday night Harry J. Doherty of the University club, with private detectives, raids Cronos' room, discovering laboratory.

Analysis of the Soup

The quantitative analysis of the soup samples taken by the health department makes it practically certain that the poison was placed in the food by a person. The analysis of the soup in the kitchen, however, has not yet been completed. The analysis of the soup in the kitchen, however, has not yet been completed. The analysis of the soup in the kitchen, however, has not yet been completed.

One-Third Pint to Each

About 300 persons attended the banquet, and each was served with one-third pint of soup. This would mean a total of 150 pints of soup. The soup was served in a large hall, and the guests were seated at long tables. The soup was served in a large hall, and the guests were seated at long tables. The soup was served in a large hall, and the guests were seated at long tables.

Lived in Many Cities

Cronos, it is known, has lived in Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, and New Orleans. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time.

Was Former Russian Detective

Deputy Schuetzler and Sgt. Mike Miller have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup. They have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup. They have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup.

To Home Labor Troubles

Allegri also has done a good deal of traveling. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time.

How Chemist Determined Poison and Amount in Soup

Dr. Frederick G. Tonney, chemist of the health department, is the man who made the analysis of soup samples to determine what kind of poison was used, and the amount. In doing this he followed these processes:

QUALITATIVE TESTS.

REINCHER TEST.—Some strong hydrochloric acid was added to some of the soup and a piece of brightly polished copper was placed in it. The mixture was then boiled, and in a few minutes the copper became coated with a dark, dull film. Arsenic is dark in the metallic form. At this stage of the test the dark deposit on the copper might have been anything with arsenic. To determine which was present, the piece of copper was washed in cold water and placed in a glass tube open at one end and closed at the other. The tube was heated and when a certain temperature was reached the dark metal was driven off the copper in vapor form. As soon as this vapor came in contact with the air it was oxidized and condensed in the cooler portion of the tube. It cooled on the clear crystals visible under the microscope as regularly shaped, eight-sided crystals. This is the form arsenic takes in the crystal form. Had it been mercury it would have been round.

MAHAR TEST.

A hydrogen generator was set up and a tube and funnel were inserted through the cork. The tube tapered at the upper end so that the hydrogen was given off in sufficient quantity to burn in a blue flame when lighted. Some of the soup was then poured through the funnel and the arsenic combined with the hydrogen in a gaseous form. A piece of cold bright porcelain, known as a silver mirror, was held in the flame and the arsenic collected on this. This deposit might have been either arsenic or antimony. To determine which was present, the deposit was treated with a solution of cuprous chloride to determine which.

QUANTITATIVE TEST.

A measured quantity of the soup was heated for many hours with sulfuric acid and a substance acid for the purpose of removing all of the organic or vegetable matter and leaving only the minerals. The acids were then neutralized and hydrogen sulphide gas was passed in until the solution was saturated with arsenic sulphide. Arsenic sulphide, when added to a solution of iron and aluminum, forms a precipitate. The fluid was removed and treated with ammonium chloride and ammonium chloride, which produced magnesium ammonium arsenate, a white crystalline salt.

Analysis of the Soup

All of the arsenic present was then contained in this salt and this was dissolved in water. The paper was then burned with plenty of oxygen, leaving a substance much like table salt. This was then treated with a solution of cuprous chloride to determine which.

Analysis of the Soup

According to Mr. Doherty, there were fifty gallons of soup put in the pot and boiled down to twenty gallons, or 100 pints. At 8:15 grains of arsenic, which would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic. This would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic. This would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic.

One-Third Pint to Each

About 300 persons attended the banquet, and each was served with one-third pint of soup. This would mean a total of 150 pints of soup. The soup was served in a large hall, and the guests were seated at long tables. The soup was served in a large hall, and the guests were seated at long tables.

Lived in Many Cities

Cronos, it is known, has lived in Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, and New Orleans. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time.

Was Former Russian Detective

Deputy Schuetzler and Sgt. Mike Miller have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup. They have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup. They have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup.

To Home Labor Troubles

Allegri also has done a good deal of traveling. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time.

CATHOLIC CHURCH GREATEST CRIME FOE--MUNDELEIN

Archbishop, Guarded by 150 Policemen, Greeted by Crowd at Auditorium.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Declaring the Catholic church was the greatest protection against crime and predicting that if its churches were closed and its altars broken down there would come to this country a reign of terror and a cyclone of crime, the newly created archbishop of Chicago, the Most Rev. George William Mundelein, appealed to Catholics and non-Catholics alike for sympathy and support in his address last night in the Auditorium theater.

150 Police Guard Him.

One hundred and fifty uniformed policemen and detectives mingled in the crowd to guard against the possible activities of cranks.

While there was no direct suspicion of a plot to disturb the proceedings, the police were on hand to prevent any incident that might prove embarrassing to the archbishop and the attending prelates, such as was the case in the banquet at the University club.

Dr. F. O. Tonney.

chloride and ammonium chloride, which produced magnesium ammonium arsenate, a white crystalline salt.

All of the arsenic present was then contained in this salt and this was dissolved in water. The paper was then burned with plenty of oxygen, leaving a substance much like table salt. This was then treated with a solution of cuprous chloride to determine which.

Analysis of the Soup

According to Mr. Doherty, there were fifty gallons of soup put in the pot and boiled down to twenty gallons, or 100 pints. At 8:15 grains of arsenic, which would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic. This would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic. This would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic.

One-Third Pint to Each

About 300 persons attended the banquet, and each was served with one-third pint of soup. This would mean a total of 150 pints of soup. The soup was served in a large hall, and the guests were seated at long tables. The soup was served in a large hall, and the guests were seated at long tables.

Lived in Many Cities

Cronos, it is known, has lived in Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, and New Orleans. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time. He was a traveling salesman, and he had been in the city for some time.

Was Former Russian Detective

Deputy Schuetzler and Sgt. Mike Miller have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup. They have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup. They have been making a careful inquiry into the life of the man who was found in the soup.

To Home Labor Troubles

Allegri also has done a good deal of traveling. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time. He is a stone cutter, and he has been in the city for some time.

Analysis of the Soup

According to Mr. Doherty, there were fifty gallons of soup put in the pot and boiled down to twenty gallons, or 100 pints. At 8:15 grains of arsenic, which would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic. This would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic. This would mean a total of 150 grains of arsenic.

CURB ON CHEFS.

Ald. Nance Tonight Will Ask Council to Act on Licensing Cooks.

A. L. WILLIS O. NANCE will start the first move towards licensing cooks tonight in the city council. He will ask the passage of an order directing the law department to draft an ordinance of this kind provided it is found the city has the legal power to compel cooks to pass an examination and take out a license. There is some doubt whether the city's charter confers the necessary authority. Ald. Nance's order will ask an opinion on the subject. He is also considering introducing a resolution calling on Health Commissioner Robertson for recommendations on regulating cooks.

Truants in Fair Public.

"If I read the signs of the times right not only will my people rally around me, it is my duty to lead them," said the speaker at the Chicago fair public. He was speaking at the Chicago fair public. He was speaking at the Chicago fair public. He was speaking at the Chicago fair public.

Francis Held Attention.

He was dressed in the purple robes of his office, which under the electric lights appeared almost of a scarlet hue. He spoke with a free use of gesture and an earnestness which held the attention of his hearers to the topmost galleries.

Tells of Visit to Cronos.

Allegri, after giving the names of several associates who were interested in the "philosophic anarchism," gave the police a detailed version of his last visit to Cronos' room at 221 Fayette avenue, one week ago yesterday.

Found Dead; Cause Puzzle.

George Brown of 210 South Halsted street was found dead in his room yesterday by his brother, Arthur Brown. Police say Brown reported last Sept. 20 that he had been struck by an automobile. His left collar bone was broken, but he refused to go to the county hospital. Whether death was due to that injury or natural causes the police are not certain, though it was not believed at the time that Brown was more than slightly hurt.

Identified as Bar Slayer.

Fred Leland Picked as Man Who Killed Thomas Creighton, Police Announce.

Fred Leland, alias Fred Forsberg, a paroled convict, has been identified as the man who killed Thomas Creighton in his brother's saloon at 2638 South State street on Feb. 4, according to an announcement made yesterday by Capt. John A. Loeck of the Woodlawn police station. The identification was made Thursday by Thomas Donohue, a witness of the shooting. Leland confessed that he had figured in several holdups, but denied that it was he who shot Creighton.

CHUM OF CRONES REVEALS CLEWS; DENIES PLOTTING

Police, After Quiz, Believe Allegri Is Concealing Data on Anarchists.

Has Read Bible Through.

Reverting to his early breaking away from the church in Italy, Allegri said he had read the Bible through "two or three times."

"Some of it is good," he declared. "Some of it is bad. I don't believe the church should have any power over me or any other man. He should think for himself, as a free man. The part of the Bible that says you are a free man is all right. The part that says you should bow down to some one is wrong."

"BOULEVARD LINK" CASE WILL START ANEW TODAY.

Judge Pond of De Kalb County to Hear Motion Involving Millions in Property for Improvement.

The "boulevard link," about which Chicago has been talking and litigating for years, begins its second series of experiences in court this morning.

Francis Lectures on Drink

Former Alderman Tells Bristlewood Innmates What He Learned About Liquor from Experience.

Former Ald. Joseph H. Francis, who says it was a "social drink" that landed him three years ago in the house of correction, spent an hour behind the bar at the Bristlewood inn last night. He told the innmates some of the things he has learned about liquor through bitter experience. He quoted freely from his recently published book, "My Last Drink," and urged his hearers to consider whether sobriety wouldn't keep them out of jail in the future.

Found Dead; Cause Puzzle.

George Brown of 210 South Halsted street was found dead in his room yesterday by his brother, Arthur Brown. Police say Brown reported last Sept. 20 that he had been struck by an automobile. His left collar bone was broken, but he refused to go to the county hospital. Whether death was due to that injury or natural causes the police are not certain, though it was not believed at the time that Brown was more than slightly hurt.

Identified as Bar Slayer.

Fred Leland Picked as Man Who Killed Thomas Creighton, Police Announce.

Fred Leland, alias Fred Forsberg, a paroled convict, has been identified as the man who killed Thomas Creighton in his brother's saloon at 2638 South State street on Feb. 4, according to an announcement made yesterday by Capt. John A. Loeck of the Woodlawn police station. The identification was made Thursday by Thomas Donohue, a witness of the shooting. Leland confessed that he had figured in several holdups, but denied that it was he who shot Creighton.

February Shoe Sale

Now in Progress at The Children's Store

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

A+TARR BEST

February Shoe Sale

Now in Progress at The Children's Store

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

PARIS, France. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress. The children's store is now in progress.

FRENCH CRUISER IS DIVER VICTIM, BELIEF IN PARIS

Amiral Charner Last Heard From on Feb. 8; Two British Ships Reported Sunk.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The following official statement was given out here today: The ministry of marine fears for the fate of the cruiser Amiral Charner, which has been patrolling the Syrian coast. No news has been received from the cruiser since Feb. 8, when, according to a German telegram, a submarine sank a French warship.

[The Amiral Charner under normal conditions carried a crew of 570. It was 347 feet long, 46 feet beam, and displaced 4,680 tons. It was armed with two 7.6 inch guns in turrets forward and aft, six 5.5 inch guns, four 4.7 inch guns, four 3.9 inch guns, and four torpedo tubes. It was laid down in 1888.]

British Steamer Sunk. LONDON, Feb. 13.—The British steamship Springwell has been sunk in the Mediterranean while on its way from London to Calcutta. A Russian dispatch to Malta says it was torpedoed without warning. The officers and crew, numbering seventy-three, were picked up and landed at Malta.

[The Springwell was a 185 foot boat of 4,533 tons gross. It was built in 1914 and owned by the Well Line of Newcastle, England.]

Another British Ship Sunk. Lloyd's reports that the British steamship Cedarwood has been sunk. Two members of its crew were saved.

[The Cedarwood, 653 tons gross, was built in 1907 and owned in Middlesbrough, England.]

The Belgian steamer Audaux of Antwerp has been sunk. Two of the crew were lost.

[The Audaux was a vessel of 1,885 tons. It was last reported as having arrived at Bilbao Jan. 9.]

Zebrugge German Boat Sunk. AMSTERDAM, Feb. 13.—The telegraph says the German scout vessel in the North sea has been sunk out of Zebrugge, as it is known among the fishermen stationed there and that some vessels which formerly were not at that port have been lying there under attack.

Norwegian Ship Landed. HARTLEPOOL, Eng., Feb. 13.—Sixteen members of the Norwegian ship Alsanna, which was sunk by a mine or torpedo in the North sea on Thursday night, have been landed here. Two of the men are injured.

The explosion shattered the after part of the ship and it disappeared in two minutes. The members of the crew escaped in a boat and were picked up by another Norwegian ship and brought here.

German Gunboat Lost. HAVRE, Feb. 13.—A dispatch received from the Belgian forces operating on Lake Tanganyika, Africa, says the German gunboat Hedwig von Wissmann had been sunk in a naval action off Albertville. Two of the German crew were killed. The remainder of the men on board the gunboat were taken prisoners.

RUMOR OF KITCHIN OUSTING NONSENSE, CLARK DECLARES

Speaker Labels Chatter About Dismissing Majority Leader as "Utter Nonsense."

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—That Representative Kitchen of North Carolina will be dropped from the majority leadership of the house unless he is in line for President Wilson's policies on national defense, the tariff commission, and the ship purchase bill was denied tonight by Speaker Clark.

He said Mr. Kitchen is only co-official leader of the majority and that it is not necessary for him to direct the fight for the passage of every bill. The speaker indicated clearly, however, that he himself will take the lead in support of administration measures when either leadership is wanting.

"All this talk about dismissing Kitchen is utter nonsense," Speaker Clark said. "Also the chatter about dismissing him is utter nonsense. It is a silly thing to say. I do not agree about all things, but Mr. Kitchen has as much right to his opinion as the president has to his or I have to mine."

"No man can build a proposition through the house by main strength. The entire philosophy of success in the life and business assembly is to take things by the smooth handle, to rub the hair the right way of the bill, and to confer freely with members, persuading rather than attempting to overpower, yielding in non-essentials, firm as a rock in essentials."

AUTONOMY FOR POLAND. OVERTURE BY BOTH SIDES.

Germany Said to Be Considering Forming Additional Army of 800,000 Men Under New Regime.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—A dispatch to the Post from its Berlin correspondent states that Germany is making strenuous efforts to induce the Poles to agree to accept autonomy under the sovereignty of Germany, in which event Germany will have an additional army of 800,000 Poles. The dispatch adds that Polish leaders in Germany believe it is imperative for the Poles to accept autonomy under the sovereignty of Germany, which was promised by the German emperor, in order to prevent the Poles from accepting the German proposal.

U. S. BRIGADE FOR CANADA

Some Thousand Americans Living in Dominion to Be Recruited for Service.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—A full brigade of approximately 4,000 Americans now living in Canada will be recruited for service with the Dominion forces on the firing line in Flanders, it was announced here today.

Suffragists' Valentine to President.

PHOTO BY HARRIS & EYING

The valentine which President Wilson will receive today from the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, urging his support for the

Susan B. Anthony amendment, is in the form of a large heart-shaped card on which fair women are offering hearty labeled "Votes" for the consideration of the president. An extract from one of the president's speeches accompanies the valentine.

BIG GUN SUCCESS AGAINST AUSTRIANS. ROME REPORT.

Damage Done in Various Sections—Italians Admit Enemy Victory in the Piave Basin.

ROME, via London, Feb. 13.—The following official communication covering operations against the Austrians was issued today:

Our artillery action today was markedly effective against columns of wagons on the eastern slopes of Brans in the Lagarina valley, against parties of enemy soldiers in the environs of Luserne, in the Asiatic valley, and against the Colossio station in the Sige valley.

In the Sexten valley our bombardment set fire to the Dolomiten hotel.

In the Piave basin of the upper Isonzo at daybreak Saturday the enemy by a surprise attack, made in considerable strength, succeeded in penetrating our intrenchments in the Ronco area.

In the Gorizia sector enemy batteries, firing from positions near Ubbia and Savona against our positions on Podgora, were silenced by our artillery.

"ON WHICH SIDE?" GERMAN INQUIRY OF ROUMANIA.

Newspaper Begins Campaign Seeking to Force Action—Says "Twelve Strike Swiftly."

LONDON, Feb. 13.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Ungheni, on the Roumanian frontier, says: "Baron von dem Busche-Haddenhausen, the German minister at Bucharest, who was intrusted with a special mission to Roumania by the German government, has returned from Berlin, where he was received in audience by the kaiser, and has opened his campaign in his newspaper, Roumanian, by threatening Roumanian."

"The German powers," he says in his paper, "know how to strike swiftly and energetically."

He asks on which side Roumanians are going to range herself and declared that Germany wishes to know immediately.

592,000 SHOES TO EUROPE.

Commission for Belgian Relief Announces Shipment of This Number Since Winter Began.

New York, Feb. 13.—The commission for relief in Belgium announced tonight that since the beginning of its winter campaign it has sent 592,000 pairs of shoes to the destitute in Belgium and northern France.

If you want to really live, get close to Nature. If you want to really smoke, get close to VELVET—Nature's best tobacco, naturally cured.

TEUTON IN JAIL ADDS CHARGES

Says Local British Consul Offered $40,000 for U. S. War Plans.

O. A. Braun, the Teutonic Boer of America, official who is under arrest on charges of impersonating a federal officer and violating neutrality laws, talked to reporters in the county jail yesterday.

He gave them further details of the offer which he says the British consul in Chicago made him to furnish them with data on American naval bases.

"Yes, sir," he said with an impressive air of mystery, "it was the naval base at Newport News, Va., that they wanted me to tell them about."

Approached by Hindoo. "About two weeks ago a Hindoo who said he was an agent of Horace D. Nugent, the British consul, came to me and offered me $20,000 in his name if I would go to Newport News and get information about the place. I told him it was worth $20,000 to his government if it was worth $40,000 to me and that would be my price."

"Of course, I had no intention of doing what they wanted. I consulted A. E. C. Schmidt, who is connected with the Hamburg-American line, and told him of my plan. I was going to take the $40,000, make the British consul believe I had gone to Newport News, and send him sales information."

Consul Denies Story. Mr. Nugent said Braun's accusations were unfounded.

"I never saw Braun in my life," he said. "Neither have I a Hindoo in my employ. His charges so far as I am concerned are untrue."

Elinor O. Cabanagh, chief of the federal bureau of investigation of the department of justice, said last night that he intends to investigate Braun's story.

TO CALL FOR CONSCRIPTS.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The first call to the married men who attested under the Derby scheme, the Daily Mail says, will be issued about a month hence.

A late London report said that all single men were to be called to the colors during the coming week.

LEBOLT & COMPANY PEARLS

OF more than ordinary interest are the Necklaces of rose pearls which we have assembled from the choicest gems of the highbushment of pearls we recently received from Europe. The prices which our unique importing facilities enable us to name are, in the face of the rising market, indeed little short of remarkable.

Cutting facility and

LEBOLT & COMPANY

State and Monroe

NEW YORK 534 Fifth Avenue

Chicago 111 N. Dearborn

San Francisco 444 S. Market

Los Angeles 111 N. Main

Portland 111 N. Main

Seattle 111 N. Main

Spokane 111 N. Main

Butte 111 N. Main

Helena 111 N. Main

Great Falls 111 N. Main

Bozeman 111 N. Main

U. S. TO CLASSIFY ARMED VESSELS AS AUXILIARIES

Predicted Americans Will Be Warned to Stay Off; Congress May Pass Laws.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—That President Wilson will classify armed liners and other merchant vessels as auxiliary cruisers and prohibit Americans from taking passage upon such ships was predicted tonight by a high administration official.

Furthermore, he said he would not be surprised if congress should enact legislation prohibiting Americans from traveling on ships of belligerent nationality because of the uncertainty that it is likely to exist concerning their status as armed or unarmed vessels.

It is conceived that British steamers leaving American ports without mounted guns will be sunk by German submarines. Whether a gun was visible on the steamer at the time of the attack will be a matter of dispute between the British official and the German submarine commander, as has happened in one of two cases. Moreover, British ships bound to the United States will not be subject to the prohibition of armament until they arrive.

Favor Law of Prevention. In view of the increased danger to traveling Americans produced by the prospective conditions, many members of congress favor legislation designed to keep citizens of the United States off all belligerent ships.

The president and Secretary of State Lansing will define their attitude this week concerning armed merchant ships in view of the German announcement that such vessels will be sunk without warning after Feb. 20.

That they virtually had decided to regard defensively armed merchant vessels as warships is indicated by the concluding paragraph of Secretary Lansing's proposals of Jan. 25 to the allies:

"I should add that my government is impressed with the reasonableness of the argument that a merchantman carrying armament of any sort, in view of the character of submarine warfare and the defensive weakness of undersea craft, should be held to be an auxiliary cruiser and so treated by a neutral as well as a belligerent government and is seriously considering instructing its officials accordingly."

Cannot Accuse Germany. It is pointed out that in view of this statement it would be practically impossible for the United States to continue to hold Germany to "strict accountability" for the injury to Americans on defensively armed liners torpedoed without warning.

One administration official said tonight that Great Britain cannot expect its protests against the contemplated action of the United States to have great weight in Washington while the London government continues to ignore the American protests against British disruption of legitimate American commerce with the neutral countries of northern Europe.

Representative Julius Kahn of California, Byron E. Newton, assistant secretary of the treasury, who is at the head of the coast guard and life saving service.

Mr. Lester Jones, superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic survey, Prof. H. C. Frankland, chief forecaster of the United States weather bureau, John Hays Hammond Jr., Emerson McMillan of New York, President of twenty-seven area clubs also will be appointed members of the committee.

FORD TO LAUNCH NATIONAL CAMPAIGN ON PREPAREDNESS

Will Devote Millions to Educational and Publicity Campaign Against Big Army and Navy.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 13.—It was announced tonight that Henry Ford is preparing to launch a country-wide campaign of newspapers and magazine advertising against the program for huge naval and military expenditures, now before congress.

It was said Mr. Ford intends soon to carry out his announced intention to devote millions of dollars to an educational campaign against war and preparedness which he declared to be the first step toward actual war.

None of the details of the plan could be obtained tonight except that Mr. Ford had been considering the campaign for some time and that "all the people of the country would be reached by it."

Mr. A. M. Greenfield Wounded. LONDON, Feb. 13.—Mr. A. M. Greenfield of the North Lancers has been wounded in France. It was officially announced today. Mr. Greenfield is a son-in-law of Earl Grey, former governor general of Canada.

GR-R-R-R.

Gallant Alredale Which Saved Mistress and Stompeded Chlo-former Burglar, Who Left Souvenir Shreds.

Miss Clara Glick

This is Prince. When robbers came into the home of Samuel Wakefield, 2456 Berne avenue, Saturday night and shot through a cellar door and saw at them, tearing the seat out of the trousers of one, a necktie of another, and leaving them generally.

It was Prince.

SUFFRAGISTS ASK LEWIS FOR AID IN THEIR PLANS.

Chicago Headquarters of Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage Writes to Senator.

The Chicago headquarters of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage yesterday sent the following letter to Senator James Hamilton Lewis:

"We note with pride the press report that the president of the United States has called you into conference regarding the administration plans for legislation in his session of congress before the party convention in June. While you are in the state, before your return to Washington, we would like a brief hearing in order to lay before you the reasons for our request that you use your influence to obtain the administration's backing of the submission of the Susan B. Anthony amendment."

The letter was signed by Edith Swift, chairman; Frances Frothingham, Joann Dwyer, Abigail M. McGee, Melville H. Bunsley, Mrs. G. A. Mattie, Marjory Lane, Florence M. Hazard, Cornelia D. Bay, and Mrs. Elizabeth Marbury.

St. Valentine Doesn't Affect Mail. There was no interruption in the amount of mail handled yesterday at the post office, despite the fact that today is St. Valentine's day.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS JOIN VICTORIOUS CHINESE REBELS

Forces of Monarchy Aligned with Yoo After Capture of Luchow and Chung-King.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Tokio dispatches state that the Chinese rebels, who advanced from Yunnan province into Szechuen and captured Luchow and Chung-King, have been joined by government troops.

MASSACRES OF ARMENIANS RENEWED. REPORT ASSERTS.

Bucharest Correspondent Says Fresh Outrages Have Been Committed in Turkey.

LONDON, Feb. 14, 4:08 a. m.—Fresh massacres of Armenians are reported from Turkey, according to the Times-Bucharest correspondent, who, however, gives no details.

BIG AMERICANS BACK COURT OF WORLD PEACE

Advocate Force to Quell Any State Refusing to Submit Dispute.

An international alliance of nations to police the world and to use force to quell any state that refuses to submit its dispute to a court of arbitration before resorting to arms is a major suggestion of the League to Enforce Peace, published in a report just issued by the National Economic League.

The suggestion has behind it the weight of important Americans. Former President Taft is head of the League to Enforce Peace.

League of Authorities. The National Economic League, which has also exposed the movement, is an organization composed of authorities on financial, legal, and educational matters. Its executive council is composed of such men as Louis D. Brandeis, Supreme court appointee; Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior; Charles J. Bonaparte, United States attorney general under Roosevelt; Frank J. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University; Jacob Gould Shurman, president of Cornell University; David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford University; and Woodrow Wilson, former president of the American Bar Association.

Platform of League. The following is substantially the platform of the League:

All justifiable questions between signatory powers, not settled by negotiation, shall, subject to treaty limitations, be submitted to a judicial tribunal for hearing and judgment.

The signatory powers shall jointly use forthwith both their economic and military forces against any one of their number that goes to war or commits acts of hostility, against another of the signatories before any question arising shall be submitted as in the foregoing.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

Members of League. Chicago members of the Economic League's national council are:

Samuel Wakefield, Alfred A. Bates, Louis J. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Edward C. Bates, Taylor R. Bates, T. J. Bates, and others.

GENUINE DIAMONDS

BLUE-WHITE VALUE GUARANTEED

LADIES' RINGS

Valuation Weight Our Price

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

1.00 1.00 1.00

"It is Correct if it Bears a Shayne Label"

Announcing a Showing by John T. Shayne & Company of Exquisite Spring Modes in Authentic Exclusive Knox Millinery

THESE chic, captivating creations have a dash and charm all their own. KNOX means styles that are both correct and inimitable together with superb excellence in every detail.

For 45 Years Headquarters for Knox Hats

JOHN T. SHAYNE & CO. Palmer House Corner

GERMANS SEIZE ENEMY TRENCHES ON WESTERN LINE

Berlin Official Report Tells of Advance on Wide Front in the Champagne.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—The official statement issued by the general army headquarters today was as follows:
In Flanders, after lively artillery fighting, our patrols penetrated positions of the enemy. Southeast of Hesbigne more than forty Englishmen were captured.

British artillery bombarded the town of Lille yesterday and Friday. Considerable material damage was done, but there was no loss of life or destruction of military property.

On our front between La Bassée canal and Arras, and also south of the Somme, hostilities were impeded by bad weather. In the fighting in the region northwest and west of Virey up to Feb. 9 we captured nine officers, 682 men, and thirty-five machine guns, two mine throwers, and stores of various descriptions.

Our artillery shelled heavily the enemy's positions between the Oise and Reims with good success, as is confirmed by patrols.

Tells of Champagne Gains.
In Champagne, south of Saint Marie-a-Py, we stormed French positions extending over about 700 yards, capturing four officers and 202 men. Northwest of Managies the enemy unsuccessfully made two violent attacks.

Hand grenade battles continue without interruption over the portion of our trenches to the east of Maison de Champagne, which the French occupied on Feb. 11. Between the Meuse and the Moselle we destroyed by five large explosions the advanced trenches of the enemy over a front of thirty to forty yards.

Lively artillery fighting is proceeding in Lorraine and in the Vosges, south of Buss. East of St. Die a German detachment penetrated advanced positions of the enemy's position and captured more than thirty chateaux.

French Official Statement.
PARIS, Feb. 13.—The official statement issued by the ministry of war today was as follows:

To the north of Vic-sur-Aisne our artillery dispersed enemy detachments which had advanced as far as our wire entanglements.

To the northeast of Soissons the Germans were able, after a bombardment, to reach one of our positions in the neighborhood of the Grey road. A counter attack ejected them immediately. The enemy left a number of dead on the field and we took some prisoners, of whom one was an officer.

The day was marked by a series of German attacks, extending from Hill 140 as far as the road between Neuville and La Fole.

Attacks at Four Points.
In the morning the first attack was made, without result, to the west of Hill 140. In the afternoon, after a violent bombardment of our positions, the enemy attacked at four different points along our front. Three of these attacks were stopped short by our curtain of fire and the fire of our infantry. In the course of the fourth the enemy succeeded in penetrating our first line trench to the west of Hill 140. He was driven out of it by an immediate counter attack, in which he suffered appreciable losses in dead and wounded.

To the south of Frie an attack with grenades on our works failed.

To the east of the Oise we bombarded the enemy organization in front of Ponsy. Between Soisson and Reims the German artillery was particularly active. In the sector of Soissons, Chassemy, and La Poupelle our curtain of fire cut short infantry actions in the course of preparation.

Battles in Champagne.
In the Champagne, to the northeast of the Butte de Morville, the Germans directed five successive counter attacks.

St. Globe-Wernicke Co.
Phone Randolph 5735

Largest Stock of Office Chairs
in the City

Special
$4.50
Mahogany
Swivel Chair

Side Chair
To Match
Without Arms $2.75

Typewriter Chair to Match, $4
Other Styles in Oak and Mahogany at Equally attractive Prices.

Files
We are the world's largest stock of office supplies and equipment
at St. Globe-
Wernicke Co. in wood and steel for every purpose—is always thoroughly complete.

St. Globe-Wernicke Co.
11 and 13 North Wabash
San Dept. of Madison

St. Globe-Wernicke Co.
11 and 13 North Wabash
San Dept. of Madison

St. Globe-Wernicke Co.
11 and 13 North Wabash
San Dept. of Madison

SURPRISE.

His Mother and Father, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parkinson of Chicago, See Son's Bride for First Time in This Photograph.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Parkinson

The next best thing to a new daughter-in-law arrived yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parkinson at 1231 Morse avenue. It was a photograph—the first intimation the Parkinsons have had of what the most recent addition to their family looks like.

When Ensign "Bob" Parkinson, U. S. N., was married in Lawrenceville, N. J., to Miss Ruth Huntington Prentiss, a student in the Boston Conservatory of Music, his parents were taken by surprise, for the navy man acquired the reputation of being a confirmed bachelor soon after he left the Lake View high school and went to Annapolis, where he graduated in the class of 1913.

To prove that he had really "gone and done it" the young man planned to bring his bride to Chicago for a honeymoon visit. But the secretary of the navy or some one told Ensign Parkinson there was work for him on the battleship South Carolina in Cuba, so the wedding trip had to be abandoned. Mrs. Parkinson is continuing her studies in Boston and hoping her picture will make a good impression.

Both Sides Change Minds.
At the beginning of the war one group of belligerents—the central powers—begged for Greece's participation in the war, while the entente powers insisted that it remain neutral, so as not to extend the conflict to the Balkans.

"Let the situation change diametrically. The second group asked Greece to join with it, while the first group desired it to continue its inaction. Greece still remained neutral."

"It is just to imagine that it did so through pro-Germany when it is evident that it simply followed its original course toward the two groups of belligerents."

German Refugees at Santa Isabel.
MADRID, Feb. 13.—The German refugees who have arrived at Santa Isabel from the island of Fernando Po, West Africa, in a dispatch announced that 140 German refugees have arrived at Santa Isabel from the German Kamerun and will be sent to Spain.

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

BULGARIA SEEKS SEPARATE PEACE WITH ENTENTE?

Athens Wires Overtures Have Been Made; Greek Attitude Explained.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from its correspondent in Athens says it is confirmed in entente circles that Bulgaria has made overtures to the entente allies for a separate peace.

Explains Greek Stand.
ATHENS, Friday, Feb. 11, via Paris, Feb. 13 (delayed).—Prince Nicholas of Greece, brother of King Constantine, and military governor of the interior zone, has authorized the Associated Press to publish an open letter addressed by him to Emil Hildebrand of the Farly Times under date of Feb. 8, with a view to "clearing up the grave misunderstanding which has arisen precisely at the moment Greece might have hoped to see the fact recognized that it does not forget a debt of gratitude accorded to it."

"Greece has remained neutral," says the letter. "It has never declared itself unwilling at any price to abandon neutrality. The contrary is proved by several propositions made during the course of the present war to the entente powers, which are well known in the European chancelleries."

Prerogatives Not Exaggerated.
"Those persons have been mistaken who have claimed that Greece's prerogatives were exaggerated. Such certainly was not the case in the condition for Greek participation in the war imposed by the Goumaris cabinet, namely, that the territorial integrity of the kingdom should be respected during the war and neutrality."

"The condition was not accepted, as such promise at that juncture was capable of offending Bulgaria. Is it the fault of our government, and therefore, of Greece, if the negotiations failed?"

Both Sides Change Minds.
At the beginning of the war one group of belligerents—the central powers—begged for Greece's participation in the war, while the entente powers insisted that it remain neutral, so as not to extend the conflict to the Balkans.

"Let the situation change diametrically. The second group asked Greece to join with it, while the first group desired it to continue its inaction. Greece still remained neutral."

"It is just to imagine that it did so through pro-Germany when it is evident that it simply followed its original course toward the two groups of belligerents."

German Refugees at Santa Isabel.
MADRID, Feb. 13.—The German refugees who have arrived at Santa Isabel from the island of Fernando Po, West Africa, in a dispatch announced that 140 German refugees have arrived at Santa Isabel from the German Kamerun and will be sent to Spain.

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

RUSSIANS SHELL ERZERUM FORT

Caucasus Drive Continues in 25 Degrees Below Zero Weather.

CAPTURE TWO TOWNS.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 13.—The war office tonight issued the following report on operations in the Caucasus:

In actions near Erzerum our troops, advancing through deep snow and with the temperature sometimes 25 degrees below zero, have forced almost inaccessible passes and continued to make progress. They took some dozens of officers and over 700 Turkish regulars prisoner and captured seven guns, and in addition machine guns, ammunition wagons, and ammunition stores and many cattle.

Blat in Erzerum Fort.
A violent explosion was observed in one of the Erzerum forts after our bombardment.

We dislodged the Turks from a trench near Khymashak (fifty miles southeast of Erzerum) and occupied the town of Khopy after an engagement.

In Persia, in the region of Hamadan, we occupied the town of Dulabad.

Turkish War Report.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 13.—The war office tonight gave out the following report of the Caucasus situation:

On our left wing there has been artillery firing. In the center fighting between advanced posts continues. The enemy was driven from our positions by a counter attack and lost many dead.

TEUTONS USE GAS GRENADES
AGAINST RUSS NEAR DVINSK.

Our Forces Repel Effort of Enemy to Recapture Garbounovka.
LONDON, Feb. 13.—The war office communication covering operations on the eastern front, issued today, says:

In the Riga sector there has been intense artillery duel in the Ohai and Beromunde regions. Our artillery caused an explosion within the enemy lines near Yver, south of Ikalki.

Near Jacobstadt the Germans tried to approach our trenches west of Lievenhof, but our troops pushed them back.

On the Dvinsk sector the firing has been most intense near Iloukat, where the Germans threw hand grenades, which smelted asphyxiating gas. A German attempt to surround the village of Garbounovka, which had been captured, was defeated by our cross fire.

On the Black sea on Friday our destroyers demolished by their shell fire bridges in the coast region and sank eight sailing ships.

Aids Defense of Dvinsk.
LONDON, Feb. 13.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says significance is attached by Russians to the capture of the village of Garbounovka, announced yesterday by the war office in Petrograd.

It is said possession of this town makes the defense of Dvinsk more secure, as Garbounovka lies on the direct road to Dvinsk.

MOSLEMS FORCE BRITISH TO FLEE IN MESOPOTAMIA

Constantinople Chronicles Victory Near Korna and Capture of Arms.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 13.—Defeat of the British in a battle near Korna, in the Mesopotamian front, was announced today by the war office. It is said the British were compelled to flee, abandoning their dead.

Turkish War Report.
The statement follows:
A reconnoitering column proceeding in the direction of Shik said destroyed telegraph lines of the enemy in that neighborhood and by its fire compelled a hostile motor vessel to retire.

Near Felahie and Tuzi-Amara there is occasional infantry and artillery firing.

Chronicle British Defeat.
No official divisions attacked the hostile camp west of Korna. The fighting continued until night, when the enemy was compelled to flee in a southerly direction, abandoning weapons and stores. We captured some prisoners and a quantity of arms, munitions, and beasts of burden.

Hill Townshead-Hero.
LONDON, Feb. 13.—Major Gen. Charles F. Townshead, defender of Kurna, Amara, Mesopotamia, is being hailed as a hero in the local press. During the siege of two months he has beaten off all attacks of the Turks and kept his force intact. It is stated that he did so with a loss insignificant.

Both Sides Change Minds.
At the beginning of the war one group of belligerents—the central powers—begged for Greece's participation in the war, while the entente powers insisted that it remain neutral, so as not to extend the conflict to the Balkans.

"Let the situation change diametrically. The second group asked Greece to join with it, while the first group desired it to continue its inaction. Greece still remained neutral."

"It is just to imagine that it did so through pro-Germany when it is evident that it simply followed its original course toward the two groups of belligerents."

German Refugees at Santa Isabel.
MADRID, Feb. 13.—The German refugees who have arrived at Santa Isabel from the island of Fernando Po, West Africa, in a dispatch announced that 140 German refugees have arrived at Santa Isabel from the German Kamerun and will be sent to Spain.

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Let me tell you that the day will certainly come when his policy with regard to the war will be absolutely vindicated."

Burley & Company

Annual February Sale

For our third week we continue to present exceptional offerings in

China—Glass—Artwares

Now is the time to anticipate your needs in China Dinnerware, Plates by the dozen, Cups and Saucers, Crystal Tableware, Art Bronzes and Artwares. For your consideration—

Service Plates

MINTON CHINA—Regular value $100.00 per doz., special price, per doz. $75.00
MINTON CHINA—Regular value $60.00 per doz., special price, per doz. $45.00
COPELAND CHINA—Regular value $34.00 per doz., special price, per doz. $25.00

Entree and Salad Plates

CAULDON CHINA—Regular value $90.00 per doz., special price, per doz. $70.00
ROYAL WORCESTER CHINA—Regular value $58.00 per doz., special price, per doz. $45.00
CROWN DERBY CHINA—Regular value $30 per doz., special price, per doz. $22.50

Bread and Butter Plates

MINTON CHINA—Regular value $60.00 per doz., special price, per doz. $35.00
COPELAND CHINA—Regular value $47.50 per doz., special price, per doz. $30.00
CROWN DERBY CHINA—Regular value $25.00 per doz., special price, per doz. $15.00

Crystal Tableware

Both in Cut and Crystal effects a large selection of patterns are offered at reductions of 20% to 25% discount from regular prices.

Artwares, Bronzes and Electroliers

In many instances 25% to 33 1-3% off regular values.

Purchases made during this Sale at reduced prices are not subject to return or exchange.

Burley & Company

7 North Wabash Avenue
Carriage Entrance: 60 East Madison Street

ARCHITECTS:

Sculpture and intricate trim are now molded in concrete with less absorption and greater strength than natural stone. Concrete is surfaced in every hue and texture. You can study a variety of this work at the

CEMENT SHOW

Representative specimens from the best shops of the country will be displayed in the joint exhibit of Portland cement companies in the Armory. An hour's study will pay you well.

CONCRETE FOR PERMANENCE

Ninth Chicago Cement Show
Coliseum and Armory
February 12-19

OPEN DAILY
10 A. M. to 11 P. M.
Band Concerts Afternoons and Evenings

RESORTS AND HOTELS.

Briggs House

Randolph and 9th St., Chicago
A Block from City Hall Towers
Location Most Central
200 Modern Rooms (the Homestead)
Rates 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Hotel Dennis

Superior location with an unobstructed view of beach and boardwalk. A recognized standard of excellence.
Country 600. WINTER HOLIDAYS

TRAYMORE

Have got a new addition of 200 modern rooms. The Traymore is the most modern hotel in the world.
Country 600. WINTER HOLIDAYS

PINE FOREST INN

35 Miles from Chicago, near Lake Michigan. Open year around. Excellent food. W. W. Wagner & Co., Prop., Chas. A. War.

WOMEN WHO DO TRIMING

Want a paper that does things. So they read THE TRIBUNE—365 days a year.

Your Winter Vacation

Should Start NOW

Let us help you to find a suitable place.

We will gladly send you booklets and folders on any of the leading winter resorts.

Write or phone us what place you have in mind, and we will help you plan the trip.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE
TRAVEL BUREAU

52 Tribune Bldg. Phone Central 189

A.C. McClurg & Co.

Practical Books on Cement, Concrete, Etc.

The following books for self-training and reference are especially recommended to those who wish to become proficient in concrete construction, estimating, etc.:

Engineers' Pocket Book of Reinforced Concrete. By E. Lee Heidenreich. There are 80 tables in this "Pocket Book" which are of inestimable value as savers of time; also formulas for designing structures. $3.00.

Mortars, Plasters, Stuccos, Artificial Marbles, Concrete, Portland Cements and Compositions. By Fred T. Hodgson. $1.50.

The New Building Estimator. By William Arthur. A practical guide to estimate the cost of labor and material in building construction, from excavation to finish. $3.00.

Popular Hand Book for Cement and Concrete Users. By Myron H. Lewis and Albert H. Chandler. A comprehensive treatise on the methods employed in the design and construction of modern concrete work. $2.50.

A Treatise on Concrete, Plain and Reinforced. By Frederick W. Taylor and Sanford E. Thompson. Materials, construction and design. $3.00.

Concrete Costs. By F. W. Taylor and S. E. Thompson. Tables and recommendations for estimating the time and cost of labor operations in concrete construction. $3.00.

Cements, Limes and Plasters. By Edwin C. Eckel. A summary covering the composition and character of the raw materials

The Chicago Tribune

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

FOUNDED JUNE 20, 1847.

PRINTED AT SECOND CLASS MATTER JUNE 8, 1908, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT CHICAGO, ILL., UNDER ACT OF MARCH 3, 1879.

TRIBUNE CIRCULATION FOR SEVEN DECEMBERS

Daily	Sunday
1906.....171,032	1906.....296,816
1907.....174,074	1907.....300,009
1908.....234,111	1908.....357,845
1909.....236,226	1909.....363,465
1910.....246,061	1910.....366,977
1911.....239,958	1911.....392,684
1912.....318,761	1912.....524,800
1913.....354,520	1913.....558,396
1914.....358,468	1914.....568,396
1915.....358,468	1915.....568,396

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1916.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."

—Stephen Decatur.

SUBMARINE LAW: LATEST PHASE.

The position said to have been taken by our state department respecting guns carried by merchantmen will commend itself, we believe, to the common sense and sense of justice of the American public. It will not be approved by Great Britain or by ardent advocates of the allies. But that is not our proper concern.

The gist of the matter may be expressed in the question: If merchantmen are armed, what are they armed against?

Merchantmen are armed against submarines and against submarines only, and the fragility of the submarine boat is so great that a single blow may be fatal to it and a gun of small caliber as effective as a 14 inch.

A merchantman mounting a four or five inch gun, whether fore or aft, is therefore, so far as the submarine is concerned, armed in fact. It is a formidable antagonist, capable of quickly and utterly destroying its adversary.

This is a novel condition, and to attempt to apply to it the letter of a sea law written before the condition existed or could have been foreseen is to divorce law from reason and justice. The principle underlying the law in question does not reach the facts.

It does not follow that England will not object to our position. It is certain that in asserting it we shall inflame resentment against us among the allies. But that consideration need not move us if we intend holding to neutrality or to our self-interest.

On the other hand, let us not deceive ourselves as to the consequences. Our almost incurable optimism will tempt us to hope that the belligerents will accept our interpretations of law and duty disinterestedly. But they are not doing so. We have acquired the hostility of one side by refusing to stop the trade in arms. We have acquired the hostility of the other by our assertion of neutral rights under well settled principles of international law, and by declining to be drawn into the war on their behalf. Our latest controversy will greatly add to this resentment. If we have ordinary caution and foresight we shall face that fact and deal with it practically. If men like Hay and Kitchin are to dominate the conclusions of congress as to defense at this time the American people will discover before long the measure of their delectable folly.

OUR MASTER MAGICIANS.

Our national navy advisory board, composed of all the popular wizards of science in the United States, has reported that the United States has the most effective torpedo ever invented. It reports also an advance in the construction of aeroplane engines. And finally Mr. Thomas Edison, the greatest of the magicians, announces plans for a huge laboratory in which submarine motors can be erected in six days instead of five months.

Undoubtedly the work of these experts will be of great service to the country. But the service they were appointed to perform was that of administering consolation. They are engaged now in consoling. The master magicians must, make circles and mysterious figures on paper, retire to their laboratories, and presto! out comes a solution of the problem of national defense. It is inspiring and consoling. Americans believe in magic. They still believe that some new, diabolical compound, some marvelous incantation derived by our ingenious scientific medicine men, can be invoked in time of need to the embarrassment of our enemies.

The advisory board is dangerous because its job is to cater to this belief.

HUMAN MOTIVES.

The valuation of human motives usually proceeds inconsciently. It is noted now that makers of munition and dealers in supplies are exacting a high percentage for everything they contribute to the general cause. This does not relate to our own manufacturers. They have no cause. They are engaged merely in business. It happens to be a business that many men would hate to be engaged in for purely commercial reasons, but dividends have no conscience. It relates to the manufacturers in the nations which have a cause.

In sharp contrast to them are the scientists who give their energy and their discoveries, their salary earning knowledge, and their time, which the scientific mind finds pitifully short. The comparison crucifies the men of the industries, but a proper consideration of human motives must enter more philosophically than that.

Here are two different fuel bags for human action. One is filled with money. The other could not be filled with it. In the one case money is the measure of success. In the other it has nothing at all to do with it. In the one case the ego cannot be fattened without money; in the other it cannot be fattened by it.

When the motivation in the two instances necessarily is so different, a comparison established as if it were the same is unjust. A scientist, if he had success in holding the electrical ion in oil, would be rated higher on Olympus than a man who had made a hundred million dollars.

Every human being works for some human appreciation in the time in which he lives. The scientist is on the front of foundations, which is that of factuality. Sustained by the fact that what he has achieved has been clearly intellectual, which means that it has been purely personal—his achievement is felt to be his own—he is strong emotionally when the millionnaire may be weak.

The maker of money must contain himself by continued making of money. He cannot carry his power under his hat. And he cannot display a bank balance to command respect at a dinner party, or have currency follow him in a van to a reception. They did this in the days of the Queen of Sheba.

All the poor man of money can do is to keep on making money and trust that, in addition to the luxuries it gets him, it will be accumulated in sufficient amount to command that respect of his fellow man which his egoism needs.

To deny money is, for him, to starve his egoism. The more he has the bigger he is. The scientist has a totally different set of values, and it is his luxury that he is able to do the things commended by applauding mankind and sacrifice nothing essential to his egoism in so doing.

WHAT A NATION IS.

Walter L. Fisher is distinctively the most formidable opponent of military preparedness. His intellectual habits do not permit him to substitute a heart throb for a mental process, as do Bryan, Jordan, et al., nor to indulge in extravagant errors as to the American's native military ability. He does not begin by denying fact or probability, and his ability in controversy is confusion to his opponents.

Therefore, when Mr. Fisher has stated his case, the most thoroughly reasoned objections to what we consider adequate military measures have been given expression. Whatever is to be said in answer to him might concern, first, his generalizations, and then the specifications to which he proceeds from these generalizations, but, in fact, it can get no further than the fundamentals. Upon them the disagreement must be so complete that it is useless to go into details.

If Mr. Fisher's conception of a state be accepted there is no reason why he should not write the military laws of that state. There would be no objection so far as Tim Tams are concerned, because Mr. Fisher's state is not worth saving. He says: "The United States of America as a nation is worth preserving only to the extent that it is an agent to promote the moral, intellectual, and physical well being of its people, not some of its people, but all of its people."

We insist that the United States might be such an agency, and if it were no more than that he would not be worth preserving. Mr. Fisher has not defined a nation. He has defined conditions in which happy, comfortable, intelligent, and just people could live in association, but they would not form a nation.

It is possible that the United States under German control would speedily become a much more effective instrument for the promotion of the moral, intellectual, and physical well being of its people. Assume, for the sake of argument, that German possession of the United States meant better factory laws, better housing laws, protection for all workers against old age and invalidism, against incapacity and poverty; meant the development of better schools, the growth of a deeper and finer intellectualism, the enrichment of art, the scrupulous government of cities, the elimination of our cruelties of politics. Very possibly it would.

Assume that these benefits were spread benevolently and without humiliation to a single citizen, assume that they carried none of the evils we think come from the German military caste, and assume that German control instead of exposing Americans to greater danger of war entirely protected them from it.

Would not the United States then be the perfect instrument Mr. Fisher demands that it shall be before it is worth preserving?

But what would it be worth to Americans? Mr. Fisher's nation lacks spirituality. That it be in moral, mental, and physical well being is not enough. He composes his nation of ponderables. The thing that makes a nation is imperishable. It would be destroyed by the beneficent German control, which could produce everything that Mr. Fisher thinks is essential and the only things he thinks essential for a nation. It would die.

Therefore Mr. Fisher has not defined a nation. It does not matter that in elaboration of his idea he speaks of the spirit of self-sacrifice and determination for liberty and justice. He has defined merely a beatitude.

Now, what Mr. Fisher does define can be and ought to be defended as he suggests. In it universal service would be unthinkable folly. Its paid army should be to it precisely what a police force is to a city. It should be a rampart behind which the citizens promote their moral, intellectual, and physical well being without fear of disturbance. As to the size of the army there would be many opinions. Mr. Fisher would have one. It would depend largely but not precisely upon the policies of the United States. But there would be no doubt as to the composition of the forces of defense. Their purpose would be to protect the citizens and to relieve them not only from danger but from service.

It would be extreme folly for the men of Mr. Fisher's nation to do what they could profitably hire others to do. If a dependable and efficient army of Sudanese could be employed for this purpose it would be all the better.

But the nation which includes the impalpable and imperishable which Mr. Fisher leaves out of his state cannot so defend itself. It dies spiritually as it abandons the idea of personal service to be given by its citizens. The instant they hire some one for what must be the finest expression of their devotion to the abstraction which is their nation, the abstraction fades from their lives and leaves them in materialism. Is that there is no nationality.

If the experience, hopes, aspirations, and ideals of a people, their traditions and their expenditures, are to form a nation, if they build their structure by their own efforts and love it as their own, they must, to complete their work, defend it. If it is important, spiritually, for one to defend it, it is important, spiritually, for all to defend it.

If they are to defend it, if it is conceivable that they may have to defend it, they must know how to defend it.

Hence universal training and universal service, the only idea tolerable in a democracy which knows that by force it may have to protect its ideals.

Editorial of the Day.

BOXING REVIVED AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

The revival of interest in boxing at Harvard is a gratifying remark than discouraging sign of the times.

A young man who has the trained vision, the muscular alertness, the perfect coordination, the absolute control of every muscle in his body that the good boxer should possess is better fitted for any task he may undertake than one who has not acquired the same skill. The unskilled contemporary boxer is an awkward dancer and a poor wrestler, with a bad eye for distance, which compels him to waste much of his strength.

If the other universities follow the Harvard example and make boxing fashionable the result will be generally beneficial.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

Boxing is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years. It is a sport which has been abandoned by the universities of the United States for many years.

A LINE OF TYPE OR TWO.

Notes: How to use the Line, let the girls tell you.

A VALENTINE.
(Ethel Grey.)

WELL, you, of course it must be so:
No argument can shake it—
If one will offer up a heart,
The other need but take it.

The truth of proverbs thus we learn,
The notion's far from new,
"If you are a toulous l'un qui aime,
Et l'autre qui tend la joue."

You may not think it fair, perhaps;
Indeed, it does seem funny,
That these two lines should do the work
For dozens to do the honey:

And yet in love 'tis just the same,
It is the "rule of two."
"If you are a toulous l'un qui aime,
Et l'autre qui tend la joue."

Perhaps 'tis this unequal yoke
That keeps our love from dying;
One only listens to the sighs,
The other does the sighing.

He gives his love, his life, his hopes—
She gives her smile—a few—
"If you are a toulous l'un qui aime,
Et l'autre qui tend la joue."

Still, I would be content to know
My love had small returning;
If I could hope to warm your heart,
I would not grudge your burning!

In fact, you see, it comes to this (Which proves I care for you),
"Je veux être toulous l'un qui aime,
Et l'autre qui tend la joue!"

KING NICHOLAS, says Premier Muchkovitch—
You'll have to remember the country; we've forgotten—would as soon think of going to the north pole as to the United States. We violate no confidences when we conjecture that this—so far as the U. S. is concerned, and probably, too, the U. S. is in a predicament.

EVIDENTLY John Dill Robertson doesn't believe in mental suggestion. The intimation that many of the banquets might be affected later was enough to make the well ones violently ill.

Rebels "Not!"
Sir: The knowledge that B. P. Emory is a resident of Wheatons, Ark., should prove keenly interesting, should it not?
C. K. L.

ON the infrequent occasions when we find ourselves mistaken we are not too proud to acknowledge it; therefore we accept from a reader whose father's name personally knew the governors of the two Carolinas the information that what the North governor said to the South governor was: "Preservation is the chief of time."

WILLIAM ALLEN ALLEN WHITE, FLEASH WHITE.
(From the La Porte Herald.)
The esteemed South Tribune has Street Street Edward White living in Grand Rapids, Mich. We moved the Republic, Kansas, and we are not editors or editors!

"WILL YOU," begins a communication, "kindly inform your Illinois reader that Hesperia O. is half way."

But that was as far as we read.
OPPORTUNITY.
(From the New Republic.)

WANTED: Executive head of a large commission; previous experience undesirable. Must have magnetic presence and investigation-proof past; must be able to put over blind of state progressivism and sane reaction; should be agile; who can whip up surface without stirring depths; will need ability to soothe business with high tariff and the people with his charm; must never have antagonized Roman Catholic, Greek Catholic, Episcopalian, Methodist, Presbyterian, Mormon, Orthodox Jewish, Reformed Jewish, Mason, Odd Fellows, or Sikhs vote; must not drink, but not be hostile to liquor vote; must have lived a spotless life, yet be known as a man; must favor Allies but not against Germans; must talk well about hunger but conserve the peace; must be for preparedness and a reduction of taxes; must guarantee prosperity; must preach economy but remember his friends; must fear no precedent but reverse the Constitution. In words of former incumbent, applicant must be like Caesar's wife—that is to say, all things to all men.

Apply Secretary Republican National Committee.

"THE literary representative of a certain school," says Gov. McCall, speaking of Mr. Wilson, "he rode out of the wilderness upon the shoulders of George Harvey; then at the critical moment he transferred himself to Mr. Bryan." Who will his next mount be?

MR. WILSON was not averse to swapping horses while crossing a stream; nor do we believe that the voters of the nation will be superstitious next November.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Mr. Fisher is a farmer and presents himself a man of his character and possessed of those qualifications that make him an industrious and wide awake husband for the lady whom he has chosen as a life companion.

THE fearless Atchison Globe runs this seven column item: "Possibly the esteemed Helen Keller also makes you tired, but have you the nerve to say so?"

GADSDEN, ATTENTION.
(From the New Republic, N.Y., Tribune-Examiner.)
The following, entitled "The Travelling Salesman," was composed by John Keller and his daughter, Evelyn. Do you ever think of the salesman?
The fellow without a home!
He comes from far and near,
With no load to bear,
Yet he's often lonely and lone,
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.
But the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

Many a job does he make,
But when he's alone
He thinks of his dear home,
As over the hills he roams,
And the smile that he carries with him
Is often a dash for green.

How to Keep Well.

By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

(Copyright, 1916, by Dr. W. A. Evans.)

SEPTIC SORE THROAT.
W HAT is septic sore throat? It is an important why is it that no body heard of it until recently? These are hard questions to answer. Septic sore throat starts with a high fever, headache, and general aching. The throat is sore. When the throat is examined it is found to be swollen and rather evenly red. The throat looks very much like a septic fever sore throat, and when the sick person is a child who has never had scarlet fever that disease is suspected. But the scarlet fever rash does not appear. A little later white patches like those of follicular tonsillitis appear. By this time the glands of the neck have begun to swell and the patient complains of profound weakness.

These are very good signs of diphtheria and you suspect that your child has that disease. But by this time you have one or several reports from the laboratory to the effect that there is no diphtheria. The laboratory reports show streptococci. Already scarlet fever has been ruled out and now diphtheria is discarded.

But the patient is evidently sick with some grave disease. The weakness is all out of proportion to what you would expect from an ordinary sore throat. Probably by this time you have discovered that the glands of the neck are forming abscesses. You begin to suspect septic sore throat. About this time you begin to hear of other cases of septic sore throat. Your milk man tells you that several people on his milk route are sick. When you ask him what is the trouble he does not know for certain. He has heard that they have sore throat. Some have had their throats lanced, but nobody seems certain what the disease is.

That the disease is epidemic is about the best diagnostic point that has been brought out. There is no way of diagnosing a single case of septic sore throat with certainty. Suppression of the glands is suggestive, but there are other diseases which cause the glands to suppurate. The same can be said of profound prostration. But when sore throat with these symptoms begins to be epidemic it is not hard to make the diagnosis.

By this time the health department has become interested. They find a certain variety of streptococci in all the throats. They find that the milk supply of all the people with this sore throat is the same. They find that the milk supply of all the people with this sore throat is the same. They find that the milk supply of all the people with this sore throat is the same.

It is a new disease? Probably not. As a means of early diagnosis for the individual case and control of epidemic, Dr. Kelley says, in the American Journal of Public Health every sore throat should be reported to the health department.

THE MORPHINE HABIT.
F. R. S. writes: "What are two or three physical signs of morphine poisoning? Is a cold, clammy skin one? What are the other signs of morphine poisoning? Are untruthfulness and bluntness of some of the signs of morphine poisoning?"

REPLY.
There are no signs at all dependable. You must find some other way of spotting your case.

NO CAUSE FOR FEAR.
"A woman aged 60, who has never married, is considering marriage with a widower of same age, both in perfect health. Need the woman fear his health may be impaired by taking this step so late in life?"

REPLY.
No.

LA MARQUEE DE FONTENAY.
(Copyright, 1916, by the Brewster Company.)

COUNT AGENT GOLUCHOWSKI, who has been so very active in a quiet way in the Balkan states during the last two or three months, dividing his time between Roumania, where he owns extensive property, Sofia, Serbia, and Greece, and who is understood to have contributed in no small degree to the refusal of Bulgaria and of the Hapsburg government to join the cause of the entente powers, is no other than the former Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs and minister of the imperial house at Vienna.

The United States has no worse enemy. In 1915, being in office at the time of the Balkan crisis, he used all his efforts to organize a political and economic coalition of the great powers of Europe against this country, then engaged in war with Spain. He made no secret of the matter, and many of his dispatches and letters have been printed, as well as his public utterances, bare witness to the fact.

For this heared there are several reasons of a personal character. His wife, who is by birth a Princess Anna Murat, has a strain of American blood in her veins, and, affecting to ignore the plebeian origin of her husband's ancestors, she claims that by reason of this she is entitled to her position at the court of Vienna and in the great world of the Austrians. Capital was made so difficult that she caused her husband to resign his post.

As most of my readers are aware, various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania, but because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs to the petty Polish nobility rather than to the great and historic house of the Polish aristocracy, he has always been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. He has been a bitter enemy of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania.

As for their father, he is a clever, old little man, with flowing whiskers, who is very rich, possessing large estates in various parts of Austria, Hungary, and Roumania. But because he belongs legation in Paraguay and sent as the first minister Daniel F. Mooney of Ohio. It appears that the Paraguayan army has been organized and trained by ten German army officers who were assigned by the German military staff under an agreement with the South American republic and placed on the pay roll of Paraguay at a salary of $6,000 each. German commercial expansion in Paraguay followed the advent of the German army officers.

GERMANS SEEK Footholds IN LATIN AMERICA

Senate Committee Holds Documents Which Show Plans Against Monroe Doctrine.

(Continued from first page.)

When the European war started Germany withdrew the officers from Paraguay but not until arrangements had been made to return them when peace shall be restored. The ascendancy of Germany in the councils of the government of Paraguay is such that, at the behest of Berlin, contracts for the supply of millions of dollars worth of Paraguayan products to the entente allies were canceled only a few months ago.

Chileans in German Outfit.

It also transpires that the army of Chile has been trained by German officers who obtained the adoption of the German war helmet and a German type of military uniform. The Chilean army also adopted the German "goose step."

It is expected that the senate will be in possession of a detailed report of German operations in Chile within a few weeks.

The memorandum upon German activities on the island of St. Thomas in the Danish West Indies says:

"They have a great part of the island under lease from the Danish government. They have built tremendous wharves at St. Thomas and at the beginning of the war were in a position to establish a coaling base there that would supply a large fleet of warships. The service they gave was that they wanted to establish a coaling station for merchant vessels that had passed through the Panama canal. The fact that St. Thomas is out of the route of vessels to and from the canal and that vessels would naturally coal at Colon or Panama City is enough evidence to prove that the German scheme was nothing more than a subterfuge."

U. S. Stopped on Deal.

In this connection it is recalled that about fifteen years ago Germany sought to purchase from Denmark all its possessions in the West Indies. The United States, learning of the proposal, indicated to Denmark that it would not look with favor upon the cession of the islands to any European power, and the proposed purchase fell through.

A few years later the United States offered Denmark $5,000,000 for the islands. Germany, hearing of the offer, exerted its influence at Copenhagen so successfully that Denmark, which was in a receptive mood when the offer was made, eventually declined to sell.

The senate committee has a mass of evidence bearing upon the German negotiations to obtain control of the interoceanic canal route and naval bases in Nicaragua. It appears that before the pending treaty providing for the grant of these Nicaraguan concessions to the United States was negotiated, Germany had made proposals to purchase the Reputed Plans of Germany in Defiance of Monroe Doctrine.

- 1—Sought to gain foothold in Haiti through control of customs and establishment of naval base at Mole St. Nicholas.
- 2—Germany practically controls island of St. Thomas by lease from Denmark, and has established base of great strategic importance, as it is near Porto Rico and Panama.
- 3—Sought to establish sphere of influence in Nicaragua by purchase of canal route and right to establish naval bases.
- 4—Sought to gain foothold in Colombia by canal concession and purchase of plantations and establishment of naval base at Cartagena.
- 5—Gained paramount influence in Paraguay by organizing army.
- 6—Attempting to gain paramount influence in Chile by organizing army.

canal right of way and the naval bases for $50,000,000, three times the amount the American government will pay if the senate ratifies the compact.

Prepared to Close Deal.

The previous government of Nicaragua was disposed to close the deal with Germany. The outbreak of a revolution delayed the consummation of the negotiations with Berlin, the United States just machine to Nicaragua, restored order, and set up the present government with which the pending treaty was concluded.

The indications are that the treaty will be ratified by the senate this week. The memorandum concerning the German operations in Colombia says:

"The Columbia propaganda was carried on through the Hamburg officials of the Hamburg-Columbia company, which owned extensive plantations near Puerto Cesar.

"This was a subsidiary of the Hamburg-American line and was directed from Hamburg. After establishing the plantation in Colombia the scheme was to get a concession to construct a canal to connect water way from the Gulf of Uraba to the Bay of Chiriqui. German engineers went over the route and declared it was more practicable than the Panama project and could be constructed at a smaller cost and maintained more easily than could the Panama canal.

"It was proposed to dredge the San Juan river, which now is navigable to Panama, and make it deep enough to permit the passage of ocean going vessels all the way to Bagdad. A canal was then to be built from Bagdad to San Juan, a distance of about ten miles, and then the San Juan river was to be opened from that point to the Pacific. The route was clear of all mountain ranges and offered no engineering difficulties.

"While this scheme was being worked out quietly, the Germans went about gaining concessions to establish wireless stations on Colombian territory. They built a powerful station on St. Andrew island, which was accessible only from Colon, Panama. The call of this station was A. D. S. A German named Mueller was in charge of it.

"Another powerful station was established at Cartagena and was in charge of a German and an Austrian. When representatives of the Colombian government went to the Cartagena station they were informed that the station was not completed and that no messages were being handled.

German Cruisers Informed.

"The Dresden and other German cruisers, however, were being kept informed of the movements of merchant vessels, and the allied powers sent representatives to investigate the situation in the Caribbean and to find out where the German raiders were getting their instructions. Messages addressed to these cruisers were intercepted and the stations located.

"Official representations were made to the Colombian government which led to the dismantling of the stations. It afterwards was definitely determined by the allied powers that Admiral von Spee's squadron was assembled off the Galapagos islands through this Cartagena station and succeeded in catching Rear Admiral Cresswell.

"A telegram which was sent from the same station in September, 1914, was delivered by mistake to a representative of the office in New York City. In the dispatch were instructions to the Dresden commander.

German Plans in Haiti.

Germany aimed to obtain control of Haiti in the summer of 1914. Because of the failure of the Haitian government to pay certain debts to German financial concerns, Berlin demanded participation in control of the Haitian customs revenue to secure the payment of the debts. The United States informed Germany that such participation would not be permitted.

Germany pointedly replied that it must insist upon participation and "would understand no other arrangement." At the moment this situation seemed to portend a clash between the United States and Germany the outbreak of the European war interrupted the correspondence.

If the pending Haitian treaty is ratified the United States will possess a protectorate over the Negro republic and sole supervision of the customs revenue. It will pass on the validity of the Haitian debts to German and other foreign interests.

Germany will not be permitted to gain a foothold in Haiti, but may clash with the United States over the validity of the Haitian debts.

Crisis Came in 1914.

"All these preliminary arrangements were made in view of the plan of operations that had been mapped out in dealing with Haiti, where German supremacy was absolute both in the affairs of the government and in trade," the memorandum says. "That Germany had designs upon Haiti had been known to officials in Washington for more than two years, and one of the hardest problems the American minister, Mr. Bailey-Blandford, had to deal with was in trying to checkmate the influence of Dr. Ferl, the German minister. Germans were financing revolutionaries in order to obtain concessions, and they were enforcing their diplomatic demands with warships.

"A crisis was almost precipitated between the United States and Germany in July, 1914, when officers and marines from the Karlsruhe were put aboard warships and a landing party ordered off to seize the Port au Prince custom house. The New Hampshire was in the harbor of Port au Prince at the time and Capt. Knapp viewed the operations without power from Washington to act.

"The matter was settled for the moment by the agreement of President Zornow to pay one-third of the amount of the seizure claim, and the seizure of the custom house was averted. This action on the part of Germany was nothing more than another subterfuge which aimed at the carrying out of its policy of obtaining a foothold in Haiti in defiance of the Monroe doctrine."

Girl Identifies Two Assassins.

William Hunter and Joseph Johnson were identified yesterday by a telephone operator, the police say, as the two fugitives who attacked Monday night at Emerson avenue and North Henry street.

PAINTS CHICAGO "THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CITY IN WORLD"

Dr. Charles Bayard Mitchell Tells Sunday Evening Club How Music and Art Thrive.

The Sunday evening club celebrated the ninth anniversary of its founding last night. Chicago was called the most beautiful city in the world by the Rev. Dr. Charles Bayard Mitchell.

"People come here and do business in the stockyards," he said, "and think we are all heps. They go through the loop and see no churches, and get a wrong impression, though we have a thousand churches. We have hospitals to which surgeons come from all over the world. We have more students, especially in music and art, than any other city in the world. This city is by no means given up to commercialism."

"Great men talk here in the Sunday evening club on great themes, and they don't give little answers to big questions. Is there anything finer in the city than President Barnes' Bible class, averaging 1,000, read or sing?"

"I must say, however, great as is this service down here in the loop, I believe it is a great mistake for cutting churches to drop other things and pool their interests in an imitation of the Sunday evening club. Down here it has its place."

Other speakers were John Lee Mahan and Ald. Robert M. Buck.

D'ANDREA GARAGE ON FIRE.

Motor Car of Priest, Brother of County Board Candidate, Damaged in Blaze.

Fire was discovered last night in the garage of the Rev. H. d'Andrea, pastor of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church, at 218 Kensington avenue. There was a suspicion that it might have been set by an incendiary whose enemy had been aroused by the recent disclosure that the clergyman's brother, Anthony d'Andrea, a candidate for alderman, is a former convict. Father d'Andrea laughed at this, however, declaring that an overheated stove had caused the blaze. The clergyman's automobile was badly damaged before firemen could extinguish the flames.

Satisfaction

In buying jewelry from a concern like

THE HOUSE OF KIRCHBERG

DIAMONDS

FOUNDED 1887

is assured, because that name is known and has been known for 40 years to be an assurance of honest merchandise and fair dealing.

104 North State Street

1 Door No. of Washington. Opp. Field's

February Sales Now in Progress: Furniture and Nursery Furniture, Shoes, Silks and House Dresses.

In the Store for Men: Men's, Young Men's and Youths' Clothing and Shoes.

MARSHALL FIELD AND COMPANY

This year's events more comprehensive than ever before, because the ever increasing demands of our patrons have forced us to plan on a larger scale.

Store Notes:

People traveling South or West—to the Orient—on any point—will find Traveler's Cheques the most convenient form of carrying funds. These cheques are sold at our Information Bureau, Third Floor, and can be cashed in any country at face value.

People going to warmer climates will be particularly interested at this time in PLACING FURS IN STORAGE. Telephone Private Exchange 1, Local 30 or 96, and our motor will call.

Colored Cotton Crepe Special—25c Yd.

The thrifty woman will purchase this charming fabric in advance of the summer season, in order to take advantage of its present very low pricing.

This Crepe is of medium weight—suitable for street and outing frocks and comes in the most attractive plain colorings imaginable.

Its wearing quality and ease in laundering are two more interesting points in its favor.

Second Floor, Middle Room.

White Tub Fabrics for Warm Weather Frocks Weaves Especially Appropriate for Sports Clothes.

The popularity of all outdoor sports demands that a woman's wardrobe include many frocks, skirts, blouses and suits especially designed for such purposes. White fabrics are perhaps more desirable than any others because they can be depended upon even after frequent tubbings and wear under sunny skies.

Assortments of all weaves that are desirable, including novelties launched this season.

Fancy Gabardine, yard, 50c to $1.25

Plain Gabardine, yard, 50c to $2.50

Corded Pique, yard, 50c to $1.50

Basket Weaves, yard, 35c to 75c

Linen, yard, 50c to $2.00

Second Floor, Middle Room.

Replete With Indications That a New Season Is at Hand Women's New Wool Suits, at $57.50

Witness the fitted, button trimmed sleeves on the model sketched at the right and its irregular jacket length. This Suit is but one of many models which the Women's Suit Section is now showing—to see which is a reliable guide to authentic spring fashions.

The other Suit illustrated has a buckled belt—used at the front only. The back is button trimmed and there is a detachable white pique collar to add chic.

During This Week Only Genuine Cluny Laces—Substantially Reduced

This is an annual selling event and many patrons purchase Laces for their entire year's sewing at this time, to take advantage of the savings now made possible.

Beatings, Insertions and Edgings, suitable for use on blouses, lingerie and women's and children's frocks are offered—every yard hand made for us—offering many dainty patterns not to be found elsewhere. Many patterns are obtainable with edgings and insertions to match.

Real Hand Made Cluny Laces

Beatings, 7c, 12c, 18c.

Insertions, 20c, 25c, 28c, 30c, 35c.

Edgings, 10c, 14c, 18c, 22c, 25c, 28c.

First Floor, South Room, State Street.

Now in Progress—The February Sale of SHOES

A visit to any one of these busy Sections will convince one of the reputation this Semi-Annual Sale enjoys. The savings are so marked that Footwear of every sort—for every member of the family—should be chosen now.

All regular lines of Men's, Women's and Children's Shoes in all Sections are reduced during February.

Women's and Children's Shoes, The Store for Men, Fourth Floor and Basement. Second Floor and Basement.

Continuing the February Sale of Spring Silks

Attention is especially directed to the great showing of Souple Taffeta Silks in the "twilight" tints—orchid, pink, maize, Nile green, and pale blue—which are so much in demand for dance and dinner frocks—made with outstanding skirts and peasant bodices.

It is the very best sort of economy to buy these—and all other—Silks now, as market prices are constantly advancing and Silks are certain to be more costly within a month or two.

We feature 35-inch Taffetas at $1.25 a yard; 36-inch Taffetas at $1.50 a yard.

Second Floor, South Room.

Le Ballet Russe

Original Costumes designed by Bakst and worn by members of the Ballet Russe, now on display in the Louis XIV Room, Women's Costume Section, Sixth Floor. It will be interesting to note the effect of these costumes on women's clothes of the moment—the new Suits, Coats, Frocks, Skirts and Hats—revealing this Russo-Oriental influence in pleasing modification.

Special in the February Sale—Percale House Dresses—$2.95

The model illustrated is made of an all-over-patterned percale in attractive color combinations. It is embroidered with colored dots on cuffs, collar and skirt yoke and has large red pearl buttons. It is a practical model for house and garden wear.

Sixth Floor, Wabash Ave.

Exquisite Embroideries

Specialty Priced at 25c Per Yard

It is almost impossible to do justice to the daintiness and beauty of this collection of manufacturers' "overmakers"—which we purchased at a saving and offer at an equally interesting price. Included are batiste, Swiss and cambric Embroideries.

Every mother and dressmaker planning children's frocks, petticoats and lingerie, as well as women's frocks, should not fail to take advantage of the very real economies this selling event affords.

The most interesting designs in solid and open work embroideries are to be found in this assortment, widths 6 to 18 inches.

First Floor, South Room, State Street.

Today Is the Last Day of the Semi-Annual Sale of "Burlington"

Hosiery by the Box or Pair—for Men, Women and Children.

Here's Another of the NEW O-G: NETTLETONS

(just arrived) which we've put into our February Clearance Sale. The regular prices are $7 to $10.

All NOW $5.85

Take your choice.

THE O-G: NETTLETON IS KNOWN AS CHICAGO'S SUPERLATIVE GENTLEMAN'S SHOE AND TO PICK ONE OR MORE PAIRS AT $5.85 IS LIKE BUYING GOLD BULLION AT A DISCOUNT.

PLENTY OF GOOD SIZES.

WE SHOW ONLY THE O-G "HAMPTON"

(Nettleton Made)

SCORES OF OTHERS.

Black or Tan Calf

$5.85

Many New Spring Lasts are "Special" now at $2.85, $3.85 & $4.85 for Big Plus Values

O'Connor & Goldberg

8 SOUTH CLARK STREET (Just South of Madison)

180 W. VAN BUREN STREET (3 Doors East of La Salle)

1863 MILWAUKEE AVENUE (Close to Ashland)

Revell & Co

10 Car Loads of Office Desks An Entire Factory Stock on Sale

The Moon Desk Co. of Muskegon, Mich., manufacturers of high grade desks, and favorably known to the furniture trade for twenty years, having retired from business, we purchased their entire stock, consisting of high grade Roll Top Desks, Flat Top Desks, Typewriter Desks and Storage Cabinets, etc. These goods we place on sale today at factory prices, and many pieces are priced at less than cost to manufacture. We illustrate a few of the bargains:

This Typewriter Desk, $21.50

$33.25

$16.00

Sale Prices of Desks Illustrated Above:

Roll Top Desk, golden oak finish, $33.25 Value $50.00

Small Typewriter Desk, golden oak finish, $16.00 Value $25.00

Large Typewriter Desk, golden oak finish, $21.50 Value $32.50

The desks shown above give an idea of the remarkable savings that are possible in this great sale. These desks are attractive, modern designs, perfect in material, workmanship and finish, and can be purchased in this sale at factory prices and less.

5 ft. Long Mahogany—Sale Price $32.50 Value $50.00

6 ft. Long Mahogany—Sale Price, $45.00 Value $65.00

Equipped with brass handles and sockets.

This splendid Flat Top Sanitary Desk is typical of the values to be had in this sale. It is 5 ft. long and 34 in. wide—massive in design, with handsome full padded leather drawers, double book drawers, extension slides, automatic lock, etc. Sale price $22.50

Golden Oak $33.25 Value $50.00

Also in Genuine Mahogany, with brass handles, $42.50 Value $65.00

Description: This attractive Roll Top Sanitary Desk is but one of the many bargains to be had in this sale. It is beautifully finished and equipped with modern conveniences, including document boxes, private compartments, card index, extension slides, automatic lock, etc. A decided bargain. Also made in mahogany. Sale price $22.50

Cor. Wabash Ave. and Adams St.

TEUTON ADVANCE PERILS WARSAW; FLIGHT BEGINS

Russian Armies Retire to Last Line of Defense Before Doomed City.

On the Teutonic drive into Russia "The Tribune" has printed a series of articles from the Russian standpoint written by the well known American correspondent Stanley Washburn. The second article, depicting the capture of Warsaw and its effects, begins with the following article.

BY STANLEY WASHBURN.
The fighting in the north had up to July 14, been near enough the normal not to have aroused any anxiety on the part of the Russians. This line which in a general way ran in front of Lomza, Przemysl, Czestochowa, and then south to the Vistula where it tied up with the Dnieper, was a line of defense before a doomed city.

A rupture of this railroad did not necessarily mean a disaster to the Russian army, but it did mean that the holding of Warsaw would be a matter of days. The main line of retreat to Brest Litovsk and Minsk would still be left open and as long as that was not menaced by the collapse of Lomza's army in the south the situation in Warsaw was not too dangerous.

All of us who had any familiarity with the country to the north felt confident that the fighting could be dragging on for some time before the Germans would be able to capture Warsaw. The main line of retreat to Brest Litovsk and Minsk would still be left open and as long as that was not menaced by the collapse of Lomza's army in the south the situation in Warsaw was not too dangerous.

First Army on Defense.

The first Russian army was defending the position. I had just come back from the front. The Germans were attacking from the north. The Russian army was in a defensive position. The Germans were attacking from the north. The Russian army was in a defensive position.

The general opinion of the military authorities was that this movement was intended as a containing action to prevent the shifting of Russian troops to Lomza where the main German drive seemed to be under way. The German losses since May had been so heavy that it seemed improbable that they could at this time begin two terrible attacks simultaneously.

The Russians had been expecting daily attacks. The Germans were attacking from the north. The Russian army was in a defensive position. The Germans were attacking from the north. The Russian army was in a defensive position.

Resolute Shorten Lines.
The troops of the Russian army were in a defensive position. The Germans were attacking from the north. The Russian army was in a defensive position. The Germans were attacking from the north. The Russian army was in a defensive position.

MUM.

Wife of Efficiency Expert Who Declines to Answer Questions in Husband's Divorce Action.

Mrs. Pauline Livingston

Mrs. Pauline Livingston, wife of a Milwaukee efficiency expert, who has declined to answer questions concerning her husband's divorce action, "discovery statute," on the ground that her answers may incriminate her. Her husband has sued her for divorce and has named Theodore Rosenfeld, an orchestra leader, as one of the men in the case.

to be held.

At least this was the version given by the Russians.

While these movements were under way I was mostly in the south and cannot deny, from my own information the German claims of having swept the Russians out of their advance positions. A Russian colonel who came from the positions immediately after the withdrawal assured me that the Russians knew when the Germans planned the attack and left early in the night, leaving the Germans to find 80,000 shells at the abandoned trenches before they realized that the main Russian force was well back toward the new positions in the rear.

The news of this retreat

War saw, always nervous and jumpy, into a state of alarm and for the hundredth time since I had followed the fortunes of that city I heard on every hand that Warsaw was at last to be evacuated.

Retire to Warsaw Defenses.

It is difficult for me to place dates exactly, but as near as I can learn the retreat to the Warsaw began about July 17, and on the same day the Russians began to fall back on the so-called Bzura line, which was the last important defense before Warsaw itself.

This line of trenches was begun in the previous November or December, when the second German invasion of Poland was gaining alarming headway. The line extended roughly from the fortress of Nowogrodzka almost due south to Bzura and Grodzka, and then southeast to the Vistula at Gorkalka, forming a half circle before Warsaw.

At Bzura, where I had the opportunity of examining it more in detail, it consisted of six lines of trenches, with forests of barbed wire. Artillery positions had been constructed near the Bzura, and everything within the field of the had been cut down. The front trenches were covered, and the country before them was so flat that one could see without a break as far as a field gun could throw a shell.

Felt No Great Alarm.

I was not greatly alarmed when it became known that the Bzura line had been abandoned and the whole line south of Grodzka was in jeopardy. I had seen the line of the Bzura, from the Dnieper to the Baltic, was not greatly in excess of the German line on the eastern front. I knew of one sector in the line where a cavalry corps, supported by only four heavy guns and machine guns, was holding a front of over forty miles.

I am not at liberty to disclose the exact numbers the Russians had at this time, but I can state that the effective strength of the entire army during this period in the fighting line, from the Dnieper to the Baltic, was not greatly in excess of the German line on the eastern front. I knew of one sector in the line where a cavalry corps, supported by only four heavy guns and machine guns, was holding a front of over forty miles.

Russians Lack Munitions.

It is true that the Russians had plenty of men in uniform and in training, but without rifles or munitions this superiority did them no good. I think it safe to say that never from May until the end of the Warsaw movement did the Russians have, including reserves and reserves, in excess of 1,000,000 effective men at one time, a large portion of which were not of course available in these operations.

To the best of my information, the Germans had in these operations well up to, if not over, a million men in their fighting line, not to speak of the cohorts of their Austro-Hungarian allies in Galicia. It will be readily seen, then, that the Russians had no troops to spare about Warsaw or anywhere else and why it was necessary to shorten the lines to make the limited number of troops hold the most important points.

Rosie is but seventeen miles from Warsaw, and when it became known that the army was coming back on to this position the population of the city was in a despair which even I felt had some foundation when on the evening of July 17 the civil evacuation of Warsaw was announced for the following morning.

Citizens Prepare to Flee City.

Then began in Warsaw that period of packing up and moving out which I had already seen on a widespread scale in Galicia.

At once began the operations of moving all of the bridges over the Vistula and the throwing up of field works across the river at Praga. From the roof of the hotel were visible the clouds of smoke rolling up from the west, where the Russians were burning supplies ahead of the German advance.

Up to this time, however, the military situation before Warsaw itself was not acute. The defense, which was being made by the Second army, had for its use four corps.

Drive Develops North.

The Polish Siberian stood nearest the Vistula. Directly in front of Warsaw was the Sixth European, and next to that lay the Thirty-fifth Reserve corps, a new formation which had gotten in May, and on the southern flank stood the Thirty-sixth Reserve corps, with its wing resting on the Vistula. Some corps troops were holding the bank of the Vistula toward a point to the south where the northern flank of Rosie took on the responsibility of keeping back the Germans.

In regard to the movements in the north from July 20 to 23, I speak with some hesitation, as my own time was devoted to the situation in the south and on the immediate front of Warsaw itself. From July 24 until the fall of Warsaw I was on this front, and can, therefore, write the balance of the story to that time with more accuracy than the movements mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

The second article by Mr. Washburn on the Teutonic drive in Russia will appear in tomorrow's "Tribune."

DEFEATED SERBS, UNDAUNTED, SEE FINAL VICTORY

Officer Says Bulk of Army Is Intact and Preparing to Resume War.

BY PHILIP KERRY.

(STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.)

PARIS, Jan. 21.—"What is that uniform, the greenish khaki one that tall officer is wearing?" my friend asked as we were walking along the crowded Grand boulevard on Sunday afternoon.

"I don't know," I replied. "It's neither British, Russian, or French and they are the only troops I know of who wear khaki."

"That's the first Serbian officer I've seen since the war and he's probably a member of a mission sent to the French government," I volunteered.

The news of the occupation of the island of Corfu for the rehabilitation of the exhausted Serbian army had just been published, and I presumed that these officers had come to Paris to discuss plans for the future with the French war staff.

That same evening I had an opportunity of meeting one of the younger officers, who told of the great difficulties and hardships suffered by the Serbian army during its recent retreat.

Rear Guard Action Dangerous.

"A rear guard action in hilly and mountainous country is one of the most difficult and dangerous operations to carry out successfully," the officer said. "The odds seem all against you, while the fear of a flank attack or a cleverly laid ambush is ever present. After our retreat we can easily appreciate what the French and British troops must have suffered during their retreat after the battle of Marne and Charleroi."

"Unfortunately our forces were too far spent, or perhaps we, too, should have had our Marne. That will come, though, as soon as sufficient time has elapsed for us to rest our men and collect sufficient supplies and ammunition. Our French and British allies have given us great assistance and the future would look gloomy were it not for them."

"Do you remember how twelve months ago the eyes of the world were turned on Serbia when, fully equipped, she took the offensive and regained Belgrade? We lacked sufficient reserves to continue that offensive, but the time will come when with a concerted effort on all fronts we shall regain all that we have lost."

Serbian Army Called Intact.

"At present we are suffering the setbacks of war, but the main point not to be forgotten is that the Serbian army is intact. That has been a bitter pill for our enemies to swallow."

"In all their communications they lay great stress upon the amount of territory captured, but although they have sprung the allies' vice a little wider open, nevertheless they are still tightly held within its iron grasp."

"I cannot on behalf of my fellow countrymen our great debt of gratitude toward America. The military and other relief our country sent came at a time when we most needed it. You helped to feed and clothe a large portion of our civilian population, while the members of the Red Cross mission brought relief to many soldiers stricken with fever and disease."

"We shall never forget the sacrifices both in life and health your countrymen made for us, nor the great difficulties and dangers they encountered to bring us aid."

Serbs Are Not Demonstrative.

"The Serbs are not a demonstrative people, but, believe me, they greatly appreciated our country's kindness. Every Serbian hopes that some day our country will be in a position to repay to some extent our national debt of gratitude to the United States."

"No, our men are not depressed. They do not desire peace until they may have an honorable one. We intend to continue to fight until our own is restored to us."

YOU still have excellent choice of styles, weaves, pat- terns, in these finest suits, sell- ing now at

- Full dress and Tuxedo suits silk lined; $45, $40, $35 values. $25
- Imported Scotch tweed suits $35 and $40 values. $25
- Very smart silk lined suits of fine materials; $35 and $40 values. $25
- Fine blue and black suits plain and unfinished weaves; $35 and $40 values. $25

Special sale of suits from the surplus yardage of Hart Schaffner & Marx special order department.

Styles for men and young men. These are the choice fabrics from the custom line; newly made over the new 1916 models; medium and heavy weight goods. Unusual values, $20

- Overcoat, economy now at $14.50. These overcoats were selling at $18, $20, $22.50. Worth these prices.
- Hart Schaffner & Marx Varsity Six Hundred overcoats. The favored style this season, $25, $30, $35 values at $19.50.
- Genuine Carr Melton overcoats, richly silk lined. The premier overcoats in the clothing business, former selling price, $40, now $26.50.

Maurice L. Rothschild

Money cheerfully refunded. Southwest corner Jackson and State. The Home of Johnston & Murphy Shoes. Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul.

MARSHALL FIELD & CO

INTERIOR DECORATIONS & FURNISHINGS

A DAY IN THIS GREAT STORE IS PLEASANT AS WELL AS PROFITABLE FOR OUR PATRONS, NO MATTER WHAT THE WEATHER MAY BE.

In the February Sale:

Bavarian China Dinner Sets

With Coin Gold Band and Full Gold Handles, the pattern illustrated—

99 Pieces—$35

Our display of White and Gold Services includes Sets of American and English semi-porcelain, Bavarian, French, English and American china—priced in the sale at substantial reductions. These sets range in price from $19.75 to $375.00.

Special: Six Breakfast Plates and six Teacups and Saucers, in attractive blue conventional border design, $1.25. Second Floor.

Six-Piece Kitchen Cutlery Sets $1.50

Consisting of a 6 in. Butcher Knife, 8 in. Carving Knife, 1 Pot Fork, 6 in. Spatula, 7 in. Cleaver, and Paring Knife. Every piece a Kitchen necessity. Made of high grade steel. Full tangs and handles riveted by 3 large brass rivets. Special at $1.50 set. Household Utilities, Ninth Floor.

Oriental Rugs Becoming Scarce

Owing to conditions in the Oriental countries no Rugs are being shipped. It is very likely that no Rugs are being woven. With the rapidly increasing appreciation of the beauties and uses of Oriental Rugs the demand is overtaking the supply. Prices are advancing rapidly in the markets.

The prices on the Rugs in our stocks have not been advanced. The values quoted below are exceptional in view of these conditions.

Khiva, about 7x8, $55.00 to $75.00
Mahal, about 7x11, $110 to $115
Sarook, about 9x12, $200 to $225
Sarook, about 10x14, $400 and $425
Hamadan, about 2x3, $7.50
Beloochistan, about 2x3, $9.00
Shiraz, about 2 1/2 x 4, $18 and $20
Kermanshah, about 3x5, $37.50 to $45

Third Floor.

Novelties in Brass Beds

Beds made in Satin Finish with varying bands of darkened tones, offer a novel exception to the rule of lacquering the complete frame in a common shade.

Both straight and continuous post designs are supplied in this attractive finish. Two desirable models are specially priced in the February Sale, at, respectively, $16.75 and $19.75. Ninth Floor.

The February Furniture Sale

Has Presented No Better Opportunities Than These

Not only opportunities to save money, but to get better Furniture at lower prices—because of our successful constructive plans worked out with the manufacturers. A more comprehensive selection than ever before is offered because the increasing demands of our patrons forced us to plan on a greater scale for this year's event.

The pieces illustrated are specials bought for this Sale. The qualities are standardized according to our rigid specifications.

Mahogany Bedroom Suite Especially Low Priced.

This beautiful Bedroom Suite may be had in antique mahogany or ivory enamel.

Dresser, 45 inches, $39.00
Toilet Table, $32.50
Chest of Drawers, $32.50
Beds, wood panel, twin or full size, each, $35.00

The construction, finish and detail of this Bedroom Suite are everything fine Furniture demands, and at the above prices we earnestly invite inspection.

Box Springs and Mattresses at February Sale prices. Ninth Floor.

Living Room and Library Furniture

Solid mahogany Library Tables, "William and Mary" type, size 52x28 inches. Special at $39.00.

Large "English Fireside" Chairs, in denim, $25.00; in velvet, $39.00.

Distinctive Spinet Desks in solid mahogany with conveniently arranged writing surface. Size 42x22 inches. Special at $35.00.

Colonial Davenport with solid mahogany frame, comfortable and well made. In denim, $37.50; in tapestry, $45.00.

Adam Style Dining Set, $65

An 8 ft. extension Table with 54 inch top, and six leather-seated Chairs to match, all in fumed oak.

Eighth Floor. $35.00

Furniture Coverings Specially Priced

Attractive designs of imported Moquettes, 27 inches wide—$6.00 a yard

Cotton Tapestries—$1.00 to $4.00 a yard

A large variety of wool Tapestries—$6.00 to $25.00 a yard

French Mohair Plushes in fancy designs—$2.75 a yard

Mohair Damasks in fancy or plain designs, 50 inches wide—$1.75 a yard

Fifth Floor.

The 100% American Built Lyon & Healy Piano will always be a source of genuine pleasure and satisfaction.

Made in Lyon & Healy's immense new daylight piano factory.

4058-4110 Fullerton Ave. (Healy Station, C. M., & St. P. Ry.)

Lyon & Healy

Warerooms:
Wabash Avenue at Adams Street

COLLINS VICTOR
IN SKAT LEAGUE
STELLI SECON

In The Daily News Today

2 for 25 cent
Collars
The best Style is your Style

WOMAN TRAPS TWO CONVICTS, IDENTIFIED BY 18

Seven Revolvers Borne by Paroled Men Held as Chicago Highwaymen.

Eleven victims of recent holdups have identified two men arrested by the West Lake street police yesterday in the Columbus cafe at Van Buren and Monroe streets. The police expect the identifications to reach forty.

The prisoners, who gave the names of Frank Kelly, alias "King," and Tony Campagna, were veritable walking armories. Seven loaded revolvers were found in their possession. These, the police say, were taken from their victims. Both men are on parole from Joliet, the police assert, and have records. Campagna is now out on $50,000 bonds awaiting trial on four charges of robbery, according to the police.

Caught by Policewoman.
The descriptions given by the victims convinced the police that Kelly and Campagna were the perpetrators of the robberies.

Detectives sought them in vain. A plan was hit upon which proved the undoing of the hitherto evasive bandits.

Policewoman Anna Hoover was assigned to watch Campagna's wife. She shadowed her for less than a week without results. Then she learned that Mrs. Campagna had arranged to meet her husband and Kelly in the cafe. She immediately communicated this information to the station and Lieut. James Vanatta and Detective Sergeant Phillip Carroll and William Stapleton went to the place.

Catches Them Both.
The police found their quarry seated at a table in the rear drinking and smoking. Both offered resistance, but were subdued after a short struggle.

Kelly, according to the police, drew a revolver, but before he could use it Lieut. Vanatta struck it from his hand. Detective Stapleton waited for Mrs. Campagna, but she failed to appear.

Alfred Friedman was arrested later, and the police hope to connect him with the robberies. They believe it was he who drove the automobile for Kelly and Campagna. Although examined for some time by detectives he refused to make any admissions.

None of the victims identified Friedman.

"We found a letter written by James O'Neil, who is incarcerated in the county jail awaiting trial for a robbery, in Friedman's clothing," said Detective Sergeant Thomas McFarland. "O'Neil is trying to frame a man."

Friedman was taken to the station and when the case blowing was "quelled."

Some Who Identified Them.
Among those who identified the suspected pair were:

Michael Dore, owner of a saloon at 235 South Western avenue; he and three customers were held up Feb. 7 and robbed of $75, a watch and a revolver.

Joseph Adams, owner of a saloon at 424 West Harrison street; Joseph Marie, bartender, robbed of $25 Feb. 8.

William Hennessey, owner of a haberdashery at 4121 West Madison street, robbed of $25 by two men Jan. 20; identified Kelly, but not Campagna.

"THE NORTH."

Young Woman Nominated to Represent Northern States in Monument Planned by Cement Show Officials.

Miss Katherine Weston

A sculptor's quest for Chicago girls who would most perfectly typify the north and south for a Dixie highway monument has been partly rewarded in the discovery of Miss Katherine Weston, who lives at 321 North Dearborn avenue. According to J. G. Franke, the sculptor who has been commissioned by Chicago cement officials to design the monument, Miss Weston is "ideally representative of the northern girl. Yesterday her candidacy was filed with officials of the Dixie Highway association, which is presenting an educational exhibit at the cement show."

"We are now looking for a perfect type of southern as well as northern girl in Chicago," said Mr. Franke. "Because of the cosmopolitan character of this city, it is possible that the true southern ideal may be found here instead of in the southland. In the forthcoming monument, the spirit of unity of north and south will be expressed by womanly figures."

This is "home building day" at the cement show in the Coliseum, annex, and First Regiment armory.

Sheepskin Total to Man.
Gloverville, N. Y., Feb. 13—Miss Reynolds, 21, died early today from anthrax which she contracted last Wednesday while working in a leather manufacturing plant here on sheepskin imported from South America.

ONE DEAD AFTER QUARREL OVER UNWRITTEN NOTE

Opponent Seriously Wounded with Same Revolver, Police Say.

One man was killed and his opponent dangerously wounded with the same revolver in a fight in a boarding house owned by Mrs. Bronislaw Kuzner, 1024 South Halsted street, Phoenix, yesterday afternoon.

Wladislaw Turul was shot behind the right ear and died instantly. George Boland, his roommate, was also shot in the head and was too weak last night to make a statement.

Chief of Police Philip Bertram said of the fight: "Mrs. Kuzner and her husband, John, who witnessed part of the encounter, they said that the quarrel apparently occurred about a letter which Turul was about to write."

"Turul sat down to the table to write the letter and Boland made some remark about it," Mrs. Kuzner said. "Suddenly Turul jumped up and drew a revolver. I heard a shot and then saw blood coming from Boland's head."

"My husband ran outside and I ran out after him."

"When the shooting ceased we ran back again and found Boland sitting in a chair, holding his head. His hands were covered with blood. Turul was on the floor, dead."

Mandel Brothers

8-button spats, 1.45

—cloth spats, in white, black, bisque or dove gray
—decidedly smart spats that would be good value at a much higher price. Today, a special lot at 1.45.

First Floor.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

All the Most Interesting Features of Fashion Embodied in These

Women's Suits New To-day

Calling the roll of spring suit styles grows more keenly interesting each day in these sections.

For always new and different and unusual modes are eager to answer "present" — and each brings some delightful interpretation of the new season's fashion details.

Suits of Gabardine at $37.50 Have Uncommon Collars of Striped Linen.

This suit accomplishes the spring silhouette by fitting the coat in panels at the back and flaring it in a rippling peplum all around. The yoked skirt flares in just the proper proportion. To be had in navy blue, "Jap" blue and black—sketched at the right, $37.50.

Suits of Rich Taffetas at $35 Have High Collars Quaintly Ruched.

This is one of the most charming suits that has yet appeared. The coat is elaborately trimmed with heavy silk cording, and the skirt is yoked "1916"—shallow at front and back and deep at the sides. In green, navy blue, taupe, and black—sketched at the left, $35.

There Is Exceptionally Wide Choice in Women's New Spring Suits at $25 to $150

Sports suits of white Guernsey cloth, street suits and travel suits of serge, gabardine, Poiret twill, suits of taffeta silk—these assortments offer splendid opportunity to settle the suit question now and most satisfactorily.

Fourth Floor, North Room.

The French Room Announces Spring Millinery Arrivals Entirely New Modes to Be Shown To-day

THE very latest individual and collective ideas of the foremost foreign modistes have served as inspiration for these rarely beautiful hat groups.

Style-themes just originated abroad—and scarcely sensed as yet by the many—are here in a host of artistic, exclusive hats, portraying

The New Sailors of Straw and Taffeta

The New Bonnet of 1916

The Shepherdess Picture Hat

Each of these represents a new and distinctive departure in millinery mode. Exquisite color-effects are produced by two-tone taffetas in tints of rose, blue, and lavender.

The Millinery Sections, We Believe, Are Well Worth a Special Visit To-day.

Fifth Floor, South Room.

The February Sale of Shoes Continues With the Same Notable Values

Included are: women's boots for street and dress wear, women's slippers suitable for any occasion, women's low-cut shoes for summer wear, sports shoes.

Specially Featured Are—

Women's High Lace Boots at $7.45 Pair Gray Kid and Champagne Kid

Boots take very seriously and very charmingly the added responsibility put upon them by the short-skirted mode when they present such uncommonly smart styles as

The Boots Pictured Here with Slight Extension Soles and Covered Louis Heels to Match—Specially Priced at $7.45 Pair.

Third Floor, South Room.

Desirable Silks Most in Demand Are the Silks Featured in This February Silk Sale

THIS event is conspicuous for the desirability and variety of the colors and patterns offered. The February Silk Sale stocks are sparkling with that crisp freshness which adds emphasis to the unusual pricing.

All-Silk Crepe de Chine, at February Sale Pricing, $1.28 Yard

This crepe de Chine in the 40-inch width comes in a splendid assortment of desirable colors and black and white, at the February Sale price, $1.28 yard.

A Sale of Chiffon Taffetas, at $1.38 and $1.75 Yard

This is a special showing of desirable taffetas in the 36-inch width and in an excellent assortment of desirable colors in the two qualities—$1.38 and $1.75 yard.

All-Silk Charmeuse, at $1.68 Yard

The 40-inch width is offered in a splendid quality and in a good range of colors at this special price, $1.68 yard.

Printed Radium Silk, $1.65 Yard

The 40-inch width of printed radium silk in black and white effects—a foreign fabric of a lustrous finish—is offered specially priced at $1.65 yard.

Black Silks

Black Cashmere de Soie in the 40-inch width in two splendid qualities, specially priced at $1.68 and $2.04 yard.

Black Chiffon Taffetas in the 36-inch width, of a soft lustrous weave, presents extraordinary values at $1.65 and $1.28 yard.

Mousseline Satin Duchesse in the 36-inch width, of a superior quality, is offered specially priced at $1.15 yard.

Second Floor, North Room.

New Woolens for Spring

They continue to arrive and continue to disclose fabric modes for the new season as attractive as they are practical.

Of Special Interest—

New Wool Velours for Sports Clothes Offered at $2.50, $3 and $4 Yard

Plain and fancy weaves, including cross bars, plaids, and black checks, are among the newest, and these come in the 34-inch width, at $2.50, $3 and $4 yard.

Tropical Homespuns Attractively Priced, $2 Yard

A smart suiting in broken check design in brown, gray and blue and in the 34-inch width, at $2 yard.

Trykne Suitings at $4 Yard

This is distinctly a novelty, but a novelty that is superbly practical and well adapted for coats and suits. It comes in the highly desirable shades of orange, Delft blue, cherry, gold and white, in the 34-inch width, at $4 yard.

Second Floor, North Room.

Newly-Arrived— New-Fashioned Spring Coats

Plaids or plain weaves, subdued or high colors, belts or beltless—which ever way you choose, you will be in the mode—say these splendidly varied collections of new spring coats.

At $18.75 to $75 Spring Coats Present Every Phase of Spring Fashion

With Special Emphasis Upon—

Coats of Light Weight Bolivia Cloth at $40

Here are coats that prove practicalness is an added attraction, for these are conservative, though exceedingly smart in line, and of rich, soft fabric—the colors offer Jap blue, Delft blue, rose, and "rookie." Sketched at the left, $40.

Coats of Plaid Velour Cloth at $55

A coat that successfully meets many requirements is this one pictured at the right, which shows that buttons may depart from the merely useful and be strikingly ornamental. The plaids are most effective—bisque-and-black and black-and-gray. $55.

Fourth Floor, North Room.

New Sweater Coat Styles Are Presented

Of Wool—Of Silk—Of Fiber-Silk

In the Nature of a First Showing

A welcome to the new sweater coats. Never have they been more uncommon and smart.

New Color-Effects—New Weaves—New Original Details in Trimmings

High in favor are the wool Jersey sweater coats, trimmed in leathers. Roman-stripings woven into bands trim collar and belt of rich all-silk sweater coats. Indeed, the novelties and originalities are too numerous to detail, and as to price-interest—

2,000 Fiber-Silk Sweater Coats at $5

In a fancy weave which brings out the rich texture of the fabric—shaded and pocketed in the style pictured, in many new high-color stripe effects and in brilliant tones of rose, azure blue, yellow, green, and old blue—Priced Very Specially at $5.

Fifth Floor, North Room.

106 Piece Semi-Porcelain

Dinner Sets, $10

This is a splendid purchase coming about propitiously for this February Sale of Dinnerware now in progress.

There are few attractive border designs from which to choose, and all pieces have gold-line edge.

In this purchase is presented one of the features of many in this sale. $10 set complete.

Table Glass Stemware at 20% Reduction

Our entire assortments of table glass stemware are offered at this saving only during this annual February Sale.

Goblets, Sherbets and Other Glassware at About Half

Several lines which we are about to discontinue are marked at decisive price reductions, in many instances representing but half former prices.

Fifth Floor, North Room.

This Is a Special $1.50 Day In the February Infants' Wear Sale

And no other one event could better demonstrate to what a degree of specialization this Annual Sale has been brought.

While the aim throughout is to make this the "most moderately priced" sale these sections have ever held—

Our special study has been given to perfecting each individual garment, not only in workmanship but in daintily exquisite styles—each the spirit of babyhood incarnate.

So there are hundreds of Baby Garments at $1.50. Long Clothes, Short Clothes, everything in Undergarments.

The economy-wise mother needs but glance at the "little representatives" pictured above to decide that this is a day in the Infants' Wear Sale she cannot afford to miss.

Third Floor, North Room.

You Are Invited to Inspect The Kitchens of Hotel La Salle

They are unsurpassed in equipment, sanitation and arrangement. The facilities and methods employed in handling and preparing food are the best that the skill of modern times affords. A personal inspection convinces one that when he dines at HOTEL LA SALLE he enjoys the world's best.

The food served at HOTEL LA SALLE is clean, fresh, pure and wholesome.

Our kitchens are open from six o'clock in the morning until one o'clock at night and guests are at all times welcome.

Hotel La Salle Chicago

JOIN MOVEMENT FOR FEDERAL TAX ON INHERITANCES

Poll Shows Many Members of House Are in Favor of a Government Levy.

PARTY LINES ARE BROKEN.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—The remarkable growth of the movement for the enactment of a national inheritance tax, such as is advocated by the CHICAGO TRIBUNE, is shown by a poll of members of the house taken by the Tribune's correspondent today.

Of the 35 members of the house who were in Washington, 14 said they favored a national tax on large inheritances. Of these, fifty-three are Republicans, eighty-five Democrats, three Progressives, one Socialist, and one Independent.

Many members—fifty-five Republicans and thirty-five Democrats—are opposed to a tax.

A large number of those who are either opposed to a national tax on inheritance or noncommittal will vote for the proposed measure, if it is drawn so as not to interfere with the existing state inheritance taxation. A number of pending bills provide that inheritance taxes paid to the states shall be deducted from the inheritance taxes paid to the government.

Many Democrats, who are either opposed or noncommittal, will vote for the bill if the administration supports it. It is known that President Wilson will not oppose the measure and some of his advisers are confident that he will give it support.

To each member of the house was put the following question:

"Do you favor a national tax on inheritance to be graduated as to effect a redistribution of colossal fortunes?"

Many members regarded this as an extremely radical form of intervention because of the inclusion of the suggestion that the inheritance tax be made the means of breaking up swollen fortunes.

It was evident that considerably more than 140 members would vote for a conservative inheritance tax "for revenue only."

Division in Delegations.

The division of opinion on the question in the forty-eight state delegations follows:

State	Rep.	Dem.	Ind.	Prog.	Soc.	Unaff.
Alabama	1	0	0	0	0	0
Arkansas	1	0	0	0	0	0
Cal.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Colo.	2	0	0	0	0	0
Conn.	0	2	0	0	0	0
Delaware	1	0	0	0	0	0
Florida	1	0	0	0	0	0
Georgia	0	1	0	0	0	0
Idaho	1	0	0	0	0	0
Illinois	11	1	0	0	0	0
Indiana	3	2	0	0	0	0
Iowa	0	3	0	0	0	0
Kansas	2	1	0	0	0	0
Kentucky	4	1	0	0	0	0
Louisiana	3	2	0	0	0	0
Maine	1	1	0	0	0	0
Maryland	1	1	0	0	0	0
Mass.	3	2	0	0	0	0
Michigan	6	3	0	0	0	0
Minnesota	4	1	0	0	0	0
Miss.	4	2	0	0	0	0
Missouri	2	2	0	0	0	0
Montana	1	0	0	0	0	0
Nebraska	3	2	0	0	0	0
Nevada	1	0	0	0	0	0
New Hampshire	0	2	0	0	0	0
New Jersey	1	0	0	0	0	0
New Mexico	1	0	0	0	0	0
New York	7	15	0	0	0	0
No. Caro.	4	2	0	0	0	0
No. Dak.	2	0	0	0	0	0
Ohio	0	3	0	0	0	0
Ore.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Ore.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Penn.	4	3	0	0	0	0
Rhode Is.	1	0	0	0	0	0
So. Caro.	3	0	0	0	0	0
So. Dak.	2	0	0	0	0	0
Tenn.	4	1	0	0	0	0
Texas	2	2	0	0	0	0
Utah	1	0	0	0	0	0
Vermont	0	1	0	0	0	0
Virginia	0	2	0	0	0	0
Wash.	2	1	0	0	0	0
W. Va.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Wis.	2	1	0	0	0	0
Wyoming	0	1	0	0	0	0
Total	149	10	0	0	0	0

Division of Illinois Men.

In the Illinois delegation those who answered the question in the affirmative were Representatives Wilson, Britten, Foster, Copley, Folger, King, T. E. Wilson, and Deaton. Representatives in the negative were Representatives Madden, McKim, Sterling, McKinley, Bodmer, and McDermott. McKim, Bodmer, and McDermott are Democrats; Madden, McKim, Sterling, Folger, King, and T. E. Wilson are Republicans. Those who were noncommittal were Representatives Wheeler, Cannon, and Cullip, and Representatives Gray, Rapp, and Barnhart of Indiana. Democrats are in favor, and Cox, Democrat, and Wood, Republican, opposed to a national inheritance tax of the sort proposed, and Cullip, Democrat, and Gray, Republican, were noncommittal.

Representatives Doremus, Democratic, and Smith, Republican, of the Michigan delegation were in favor of the plan, and Shanks, Democrat, and Kelley and Ford, Republicans, opposed, while Hamilton, Cranston, and James, Republicans, were noncommittal.

Of the Wisconsin delegation Representatives Cooper, Cary, Stafford, Doremus, and Frew, Republicans, and Burke and Kelly, Democrats, answered the question in the affirmative, while Nelson and Leonard, Republicans, were noncommittal.

Illinois Men Give Views.

Typical expressions of opinion by Illinois members follow:

Representative Folger (Dem.)—"I think inheritance taxes should be levied in every state and I think the taxes should be levied here by the state of Illinois."

Representative Wilson (Rep.)—"I am in favor of the enactment of a federal law levying a standard for each state and providing that where the state does not

"SO BROAD LETTY" IS WITH US.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

"SO LONG, LETTY." Being a farce with music-book by Oliver Morosco and Elmer Harris, tunes by Earl Carroll—presented at the Olympic theater, Chicago, Feb. 13, 1916. The cast:

Letty Robinson.....Miss Charlotte Greenwood
Tommy Robinson.....Burrill Granger
Grace Miller.....Miss Mae Foley
Henry Miller.....Walter Catlett
"Chita," a Spanish dancer.....Miss Frances Cameron
Amelia O'Connell, Chita's guardian.....Miss Nellie Wilson
Miss Mabel.....Miss Frances Cameron
Miss McQuigley.....Miss Frances Cameron
The Cannon Sisters, Four Cannon Sisters.....The Cannon Sisters

N case blushing becomes you and you like to do it in public, hasten to the Olympic theater and there be incensed by the ruffian process of a feebly titled called, "So Long, Letty." Not from Sodom nor Gomorrah does this speedy entertainment hall, but from Los Angeles, the City of the Angels, and it reaches us perhaps somewhat decayed in transmission, as lush and ripe and red as an overblown polio. It is the product of two Native Sons, Oliver Morosco and Elmer Harris, whose untried proclivities assert themselves in fanlike deeds and utterances not hitherto regarded as indigenous to the American tropics. I said "hasten to the Olympic," because I suspect that "So Long, Letty" will suffer emendations ere the week is over at the hands of those who see it that we have no harmful divisions.

The thing was done here three or four years ago without song, and it was rather a respectable farce then, considering its precarious situation. Two neighbors swapped wives for a week, and the details of the bargain were polite and inferential rather than rough and candid. Now the plot is as esoteric as the Lyric-in-hospital, though the lines are for men only. Such daring remarks were never heard on the stage outside of the serious drama. The farce, too, behaved audaciously, and when it was undressing itself, I looked reluctantly at Mr. Gene Buck, one of the authors of the "Polio," and saw him cover his face with his hands. It was no place to take a lady not your wife.

The naughty work began early with Mr. Sydney Grant and one of the young women of the cast indulging in an old and weary trick that has been expunged from the repertoire for many seasons. Continuing at intervals, it reached the apex of bravado in a line in the last act that was incredibly bold and audacious. Those who were there will probably wonder which was the more audacious, the line or the woman with her arms and legs. Well, I cannot tell you in a Home Paper.

However, the evening was not without its mitigating circumstances, among which was Mr. Walter Catlett, a comic comedian who seemed to be a combination of Charlie Chaplin and the chatty Mr. Ed Wynn, who performed in the "Polio." This young man went through the show like a streak of lightning, playing the role of the comedian, and with a wealth of expression and "business" to accompany them. It was not meet it, the federal government would give the difference between the federal and state inheritance taxes. Representative McKimley (Rep.)—I do not think the federal government should give its revenue at the expense of the states. I am heartily in favor of increasing the rate on the income tax, a portion of the income tax law and I think the tariff should be revised.

Representative Foster (Rep.)—I believe there should be a federal inheritance tax law.

Representative Tamm (Dem.)—I shall work for a federal inheritance tax law.

Views of Other Members.

Expressions by members from other middle west states follow:

Representative Scott (Mich.)—Where a man leaves a large fortune, some of it should be taken as an inheritance tax in order to promote the redistribution of wealth.

Representative Mack (Wis.)—I would not be surprised if the house favors a national inheritance tax.

Representative Rauch (Ind.)—Immense inheritances should be taxed heavily by the federal government. Estates over a half million should pay a tax of five per cent.

Representative Smith (Mich.)—I am opposed to inheritance and other direct taxes. I favor a protective tariff.

Representative Smith (Mich.)—Inheritance taxes should be sufficient on large estates to pay a just proportion of the administrative expenses of the government.

WHO IS L. M. GORDON?

Handsome, Outspoken Woman, Adjudged Insane, Declares He Is Her Husband.

A nationally continued woman who said she was the wife of L. M. Gordon of Chicago, was yesterday adjudged insane by a commission of three judges after she had been behaving strangely in the railroad station at Matteson, Ill. She was committed to the Kankakee asylum.

She said she went from Chicago to California in October, and her words are reported to have been "I am in love with L. M. Gordon. I am in love with L. M. Gordon. I am in love with L. M. Gordon."

TO GO FROM CELL TO COURT.

Old Doc Baker Flee Arrives on Conspiracy Charge When He Gets Out of Jail Wednesday.

When J. L. Baker, known as Old Doc Baker, is released from jail next Wednesday at Matteson, Mo., after serving five months, he will be arrested by Detective Sgt. Graham of Chicago, who has extradition papers for his return. He is wanted here by the attorney general for jumping a bail bond of $5,000 following an indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud Chicago bondholders.

CHURCH STARTS JUNIOR POLICE TO HELP PATROL CITY

Rogers Park Presbyterian Pastor Wins Collaboration of Chief Healey and Trainer.

THINKS THE MAYOR IS LAX.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

A junior police modeled after the regular Chicago police, with chief, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, is the plan adopted by the Rogers Park Presbyterian church at Greenleaf avenue and Perry street. The church purpose to save the boy and to help the police regulate the morals of the city.

It was at the Rogers Park church Sunday by order of Mayor Thompson, and the junior police plan is now designed to help the movement in the city.

Mr. Dalrymple's $400,000 Aura Slowly Fades

Called Impostor, and Divorcer of Dead Brother Claims Share.

SURE HE'LL GET IT

After $400,000 had wound his mystic halo around the head of Keith Dalrymple and he had begun to distribute his wealth in various philanthropic ways—a purely mental distribution—the young man, who claims a cell in the detective bureau, experienced the sensation of having his golden aura leave him yesterday.

There is a contest over the Dalrymple estate in Port Allegany, Pa., and the young man who calls himself Keith Dalrymple, brother of the missing Keith Dalrymple, and who is accused of passing bad checks, is declared by Allegany witnesses to be an impostor.

Divorce Brings Trouble.

The efforts of a divorced woman to get a share of the estate has brought about the trouble. She is the former wife of Hugh Dalrymple, brother of the missing Keith Dalrymple. Hugh Dalrymple is dead, but before his death he had divorced his first wife and remarried. Now the first wife claims she was divorced by fraud and that she is entitled to a widow's share in the estate.

To aid in solving the problem W. A. Dusenbury, vice president of the First National bank of Olean, N. Y., a small town near Port Allegany, guardian of Keith Dalrymple, brother of the missing Keith Dalrymple, is in Chicago to attempt an identification. Mr. Davis looked at the young man in the detective bureau cell, and after questioning him decided he is not the missing heir and so reported to Dusenbury.

Sticks to His Claim.

On the other hand, the young man claims that he is the proper heir to the $400,000 held by Dusenbury for him.

"My two lawyers have visited me," he said yesterday, "and they both have identified me. They have come back to Port Allegany to establish my right to the fortune. I am going to Milwaukee and plead guilty to the charges against me and give bonds. Then I am going east to get my money."

To Be a Philanthropist.

"I shall start a home for unfortunate men and I shall pay fines for those who have fallen victim of the law. I shall devote much of the money to philanthropy."

As much as Hugh Dalrymple is dead, it was reported from Olean that an effort would be made to have Keith Dalrymple declared dead and the estate divided among relatives.

A message from Milwaukee yesterday stated that one of the charges against Dalrymple will be that of passing a bad check for $25 on a young woman to whom he had paid $25,000.

SICILIAN DIES OF WOUNDS RECEIVED IN SALOON FIGHT.

Two Other Men and a Woman
Stabbed, but None Will Tell
Cause of the Trouble.

Amedeo Dominici, 1115 West Taylor street, died yesterday at the Columbus extension hospital of wounds received in a mysterious stabbing affair in a saloon at 101 West Madison street.

Two other men and a woman also suffered minor wounds, and the men are being held at the Maxwell street station.

Those men are Dominici Quintini and his brother, Francesco, of 1410 West Paul street. The former suffered a scalp wound four inches long and a deep cut in his right side, and his brother received a wound in his right shoulder. Their injuries are said to have been inflicted by Dominici.

Whether the fight was over Mrs. Annapa Dominici, wife of the owner of the saloon, who was also stabbed, was not learned.

Dominici is said by the police to have been stabbed by the younger Quintini. A wound three inches deep in the right side of his chest caused his death. None of the participants would tell the cause of the fight.

16 YEAR OLD GIRL FOUND WITH BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Telephone Operator and Estranged
Husband Traded by Wife, Who Takes Detective.

William Ayers, of 95 East Ninth street, a plumber, induced his 16 year old daughter-in-law, Gladys Michael, 1115 West Paul street, to leave her husband, the police say.

When his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Ayers, from whom he was separated, heard her daughter was with him she turned detective and caused their arrest yesterday in a Washburn avenue rooming house. They are being held at the South Clark street station, without being booked pending an investigation.

Gladys, who appeared pensive for what she had done, is the main support of her mother and five younger children. There are eleven children in the family, but only six of them are now living at home.

"I do not know why I went with him," said the girl. "I want to go home with my mother and I will be a good girl."

SUSPECTED; FOUN IN POCKET.

Box Terrier Is Found When Alleged Robber Is Searched by Police.

When August Dyer, of 1605 Walnut street, was arrested on suspicion of being a robber last night he was searched in the Chicago arena and a Fox-terrier puppy was found in his pocket. Frank Rupp, of 3543 Warren avenue, also arrested as the companion of Dyer in a robbery, threatened to "escape" the police.

WHERE IS HE?

This 9 Year Old Boy Was Last Seen When Woman Was Buying Him Candy.

Cyril Barrett Matthews

MAYBE WE'LL SEE ALL OF BALLET

It All Depends on Whether Police Approve of Russian Features.

Chicago is going to be given the original, unexpurgated, unvarnished version of Serge de Diaghileff's ballet Russe—that is, provided that the police approve of the features of the production.

"Art has nothing to do with morality," it was explained in behalf of the producer. "The aesthetic test is the only one that can be applied, but what do the police know about art?"

Police Are Shocked.

In New York the police authorities were shocked by L'Après-Midi d'un Faune and ordered changes in one scene. As it was originally played the faun takes a part of the girl's lingerie and then goes to sleep, using the garment as the covering for a rock on which he reclines. The New York authorities considered this bad form and the faun thereafter had to sleep on a bare rock.

Boston went New York one better and then goes to sleep, using the garment as the covering for a rock on which he reclines. The New York authorities considered this bad form and the faun thereafter had to sleep on a bare rock.

Diaghileff first achieved his European reputation as a producer of the ballet Russe in 1906. He has been decorated with the position of commander in court and is a friend of the emperor.

"Do not come to us to see one act, hear one composer, or applaud one dancer," he said through an interpreter. "Europe has spoiled you by sending its most illustrious stars. In my company there are no principals in that sense, only the artistic ensemble."

NONCOMMUNITAL REPORT DUE ON FOX TROT CLUBS.

Prosecutor Miller Will Make No
Recommendation to Council in Forwarding Morrison Data.

City Prosecutor Harry E. Miller will submit a noncommittal report to the city council tonight in response to Aid John N. Kimball's order directing him to compile why he has not started prosecutions against cabarets.

"I am simply going to give them what the evidence shows, and only what the evidence shows," Miller said last night. "It is very funny evidence, anyway, and I think I'll transmit it without recommendation. The charge is they sell drinks after 1 o'clock."

Another order of the council called on Corporation Counsel Stratton for a report on the status of the ordinance prohibiting dancing in cabarets. Mr. Stratton has written a letter stating the legality of the ordinance will be argued in the Supreme court in the April term. It was said noncommittally by the lower court.

PRESIDENT SAILS IN STORM.

Yacht Mayflower Steams Up Chesapeake Bay in Driving Snow—
Will Dock Today.

ONE POINT, Va., Feb. 13.—The president's yacht, Mayflower, with President Wilson and his wife aboard, left One Point at 5 o'clock this afternoon and steamed up Chesapeake bay in the face of a driving snow storm. It is expected to dock at the Washington Navy yard about 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The president did not come ashore during the day.

Boy Disappears; Woman Buyer of Candy Sought

In Cyril Barrett Matthews, the 9 year old son of Barnett Matthews of Armour
& Co., a captive of the

ERRATIC PRICE RANGE IN WHEAT; TRADE NARROWS

Ocean Tonnage Situation Dominates Market; Liquidation in Coarse Grains.

BAROMETER OF WHEAT PRICES FOR CHICAGO.

Diagram showing daily changes during the last week in the closing price of Chicago May wheat, as published in "The Chicago Tribune".

Wheat prices were characterized this week in wheat last week, but there was a distinctly less bullish sentiment. A noticeable feature was that the outside trade appeared to show considerable contraction after the first reaction the market had in several weeks. After the decline, while there were sharp advances on short covering, the general demand was less active, and the leading bulls found their following much reduced.

On the other hand, the bear leaders were more aggressive, finding the market more susceptible to their operations. On the advance the market met heavy selling.

The ocean tonnage situation is likely to prove the main influence during the remainder of this season. Recent developments have been in the way of evening up the rates from Argentina, the general demand was less active, and the leading bulls found their following much reduced.

Supplies are still large. At present the world's wheat situation is not so much a case of lack of supplies in any direction as it is of difficulty in moving them. Shipments from this country and Canada last week were over 11,000,000 bushels, and the fact that Argentina and Australia will continue to ship at about moderate rates, for many weeks makes the position of foreign buyers more independent. Up to this time the United States wheat has found a good market, although exports from this country continue to run smaller than for the same months a year ago.

With the allied governments controlling the principal ocean fleets, the question is whether there will be enough boats available with which to ship out our surplus. There appears to be ground for the belief that considerable wheat has been shipped out of India in spite of the fact that no shipments have been reported. In a few weeks there will be renewed pressure to ship Canadian wheat, and prospects for our exports to be as large as a year ago are slim.

Wheat Prices Strong. At the same time there has been a decided betterment in cash wheat prices in the markets of this country, and notably at Chicago, where both hard winter and spring wheats have gained materially on the future. This has been in spite of the fact that primary receipts exceed those of a year ago, while the exports of the United States have been smaller, according to the official figures. The visible supply is larger than last year, and Canadian stocks are three times as large as a year ago.

The statistical position appears to be distinctly weak, while the demand for the cash wheat and the higher prices denote a broader demand than appears on the surface.

Crop damage has not been much of a factor so far. The government has issued a warning as to the possibility of a serious loss of wheat in certain proportions. With this in addition to the marketing campaign and the initial reports of a disastrous harvest, the bulls will be well supplied.

Corn Receipts Check Drying. On the larger receipts have arrived to check bullish sentiment. Many traders are bullish for the long pull, but are inclined to wait for the evidence, which they believe will result from the heavier run of corn indicated.

The big receipts are expected to continue for some time, but will be governed by wind and weather conditions. With the weather the market will be well supplied.

The export situation is mixed. Preference on the seaboard is being given to the marketing of better for wheat, and while the bulk of the receipts continues to advance, the difficulty in shipping the corn to the seaboard owing to the embargo and war conditions.

Corn Receipts Check Drying. On the larger receipts have arrived to check bullish sentiment. Many traders are bullish for the long pull, but are inclined to wait for the evidence, which they believe will result from the heavier run of corn indicated.

The big receipts are expected to continue for some time, but will be governed by wind and weather conditions. With the weather the market will be well supplied.

The export situation is mixed. Preference on the seaboard is being given to the marketing of better for wheat, and while the bulk of the receipts continues to advance, the difficulty in shipping the corn to the seaboard owing to the embargo and war conditions.

Corn Receipts Check Drying. On the larger receipts have arrived to check bullish sentiment. Many traders are bullish for the long pull, but are inclined to wait for the evidence, which they believe will result from the heavier run of corn indicated.

The big receipts are expected to continue for some time, but will be governed by wind and weather conditions. With the weather the market will be well supplied.

The export situation is mixed. Preference on the seaboard is being given to the marketing of better for wheat, and while the bulk of the receipts continues to advance, the difficulty in shipping the corn to the seaboard owing to the embargo and war conditions.

Corn Receipts Check Drying. On the larger receipts have arrived to check bullish sentiment. Many traders are bullish for the long pull, but are inclined to wait for the evidence, which they believe will result from the heavier run of corn indicated.

The big receipts are expected to continue for some time, but will be governed by wind and weather conditions. With the weather the market will be well supplied.

The export situation is mixed. Preference on the seaboard is being given to the marketing of better for wheat, and while the bulk of the receipts continues to advance, the difficulty in shipping the corn to the seaboard owing to the embargo and war conditions.

NEW YORK WEEKLY BOND RANGE.

Bond	High	Low	Open	Close
U.S. 4 1/2% 1917	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1918	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1919	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1920	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1921	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1922	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1923	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1924	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1925	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1926	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1927	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1928	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1929	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1930	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1931	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1932	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1933	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1934	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1935	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1936	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1937	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1938	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1939	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1940	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1941	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1942	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1943	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1944	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1945	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1946	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1947	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1948	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1949	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1950	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1951	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1952	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1953	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1954	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1955	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1956	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1957	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1958	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1959	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1960	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1961	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1962	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1963	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1964	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1965	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1966	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1967	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1968	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1969	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1970	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1971	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1972	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1973	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1974	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1975	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1976	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1977	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1978	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1979	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1980	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1981	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1982	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1983	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1984	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1985	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1986	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1987	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1988	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1989	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1990	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1991	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1992	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1993	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1994	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1995	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1996	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1997	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1998	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 1999	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2000	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2001	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2002	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2003	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2004	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2005	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2006	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2007	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2008	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2009	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2010	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2011	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2012	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2013	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2014	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2015	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2016	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2017	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2018	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2019	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2020	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2021	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2022	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2023	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2024	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2025	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2026	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2027	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2028	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2029	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2030	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2031	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2032	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2033	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2034	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2035	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2036	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2037	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2038	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2039	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2040	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2041	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2042	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2043	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2044	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2045	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2046	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2047	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2048	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2049	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4
U.S. 4 1/2% 2050	104 1/2	104 1/4	104 1/2	104 1/4

WOMEN'S WEAR.

"Women's wear" was the word used recently to describe the new mode in the west by one of the largest manufacturers of women's clothes in the country. The customers included large department stores, and the goods were called for well over

In 1915 The Tribune Printed More Flat to Rent Advertising

Than All the Other Chicago Papers Combined

When you want to rent an apartment—no matter what kind of an apartment you want—The Tribune gives you a bigger assortment, a wider range of choice covering every conceivable kind of apartment, a bigger and better list to choose from than you could get if you searched through the lists of ALL THE OTHER CHICAGO PAPERS COMBINED.

The one big Apartment-to-Rent Market in Chicago that is recognized alike by Apartment Owners, Real Estate Agents and Apartment Renters is the big Apartment-to-Rent section in The Tribune EVERY DAY, week days and Sunday.

The Tribune gives you the big market—not merely a portion of it—gives you all the different styles, all the different sizes, all the different prices, and all the different locations in every section of Chicago, from South Chicago to Evanston and from Lake Michigan to the western suburbs. When you move you want to get the one apartment that suits you best—you want the whole assortment before you so that you can weigh, compare and judge, and make the one best possible selection for YOU—and the only possible way to do that is by consulting THE TRIBUNE'S FLAT-TO-RENT COLUMNS.

The Chicago Tribune

The World's Greatest Newspaper

(Trade Mark Registered)

In 1915 The Tribune Printed More Classified Advertising Than Any Other Newspaper in America

This Pa
Sections
CIR
Over
Over

VOLU

H
H

POIS
INCR
BOTT

Dady Re
Madiso
Selli

YOUTH

BY WALL
A bottle of cyanide of po ash heap in L
Lake county pleting list down against of Wisconsin charged with Lambert.
Charles W
played in the ison, admitted
two ounce em on Tuesday.
chase Orpet w est to keep h
woods with th

SEARCH
Urged by a
Attorney De for McGuire
Foster, scotch pet, caretaker
Cofmick entat basement of certified enoug
as Mr. Dady's school of girls
The cyanide
the ashes, bu three lump cr eggs. A two contained the under a glass greenhouse.

BURIED
An undertak Dady that be early that mo
Mr. Orpet.
"On the di
state is ready torney Dady.
He purchased Madison on his ing container.
Marian Lamb
I am equally this bottle wi possibly mixe
his father's bo

CARBIDE
"Mr. Orpe potassium an premises to w to kill insects
The carbide kept stored have establish sleep in a roo rage on the former, sweet
"The bottle knew what M
Copper J. S. dead girl's ha crystals which ration of som merit had been
Le. C. G. G.
man's office.
this cyanide
"When M
Gendless of p
side of potass

(Continued)

A
Adv
The
The
T
The Daily
The Sund
King's
T